35,000 EASTERN TROOPS START FOR THE BORDER TODAY

Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York Regiments and Batteries Are Already Under Way to El Paso—Missourians Likely to Be Stationed at Laredo.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Nearly 35,000 national guard troops from 12 States in the Department of the East are under orders to start today for the Mexican border or already are on the way. Two Massachusetts regiments and two batteries of field artillery from New Jersey started last night. Indications are that about 20,000 troops from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont will get away before tonight.

In addition, troops from Maine, New Hampshire, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia and Florida, totaling about 15,000 men, had received orders from Major-General Leonard Wood to depart today for the border. It was not known at headquarters of the department here whether the men actually could be entrained before night.

Two regiments of infantry of the New York National Guard departed today for the Mexican border and other militia units were on trains expected to move at any hour.

The Seventh of New York City, 1300 strong, left Jersey City this afternoon. Several hours earlier, 1000 officers and men of the Fourteenth of Brooklyn got under way from Peekskill, N. Y. Both are destined for Brownsville.

On Manhattan Island about 1200 men of the Seventy-first had climbed aboard their trains. These regiments also will go to Brownsville.

Thousands of persons thronged the streets and terminals, showering the troops with flowers and cheering. Buildings along the lines of march were decorated with flags and bunting. The New York Central announced that it was taking away 37 trainloads of men.

All are ordered to Brownsville, Tex. Connecticut had her 1500 troops ready to start at an early hour and Vermont was ready with 1200 men. New Jersey had one infantry regiment ready to start and expected to send other units later. The Massachusetts and New Jersey troops are bound for El Paso. The Vermont troops are ordered to Eagle Pass, Tex., and those of Connecticut to Nogales, Ariz.

Major-General O'Ryan today ordered the reorganization of the Sixty-fifth Infantry.

First Regiment's Destination Is Expected to Be Laredo, Tex.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CAMP CLARK, NEVADA, Mo., June 27.—The destination of the First Regiment, it was learned today from an authoritative official source, will be Laredo, Tex. The troops will be routed over the Missouri Pacific to Texarkana, Tex.; the Texas & Pacific to Longview, Tex.; and the International & Great Northern to Laredo. Their time of departure is contingent on the arrival of sufficient railroad equipment. Railroad officials are lending all efforts toward securing cars.

The Quartermaster Department is working night and day to complete the assignment of war strength equipment to the First Regiment. This task will in all probability be finished late this afternoon or tonight. With its completion the First Regiment will be ready to entrain for the border. Laredo, which is on the border about 130 miles south of San Antonio, is situated in the Tierra Caliente or hot land of Southeastern Texas.

The destination and routing are subject to change. T. S. Fitzgerald, traveling passenger agent of the M., K. & T., who will furnish a part of the railroad equipment, said it would not be possible to obtain the required number of cars by tonight. He could not estimate the time, he said, when such equipment would arrive. No official order to move has been received so far, Gen. Clark said at 10:30 a. m.

Only the Second Infantry, a portion of the Fourth Infantry, and two companies of the Third Infantry remain to be mustered in. A Battery completed the physical examination of its members yesterday. Fifteen men were disqualified.

Officials of the Quartermaster's department worked late last night supervising the issuing of the last of its equipment to the First Regiment. It is planned to next equip the signal corps of Kansas City and the First Battalion of Field Artillery including A Battery of St. Louis in the order named.

Dr. Guy L. Noyes of Columbia, dean of the School of Medicine, Missouri University; Dr. Maj. Seelig and Dr. Clarence Lock of St. Louis Faculty members of St. Louis University, arrived yesterday. They are members of the Medical Reserve Corps of the United States Army and will assist Maj. Charles Miller, commanding the mustering officers here, in mustering in the men. Dr. D. L. Harris, former city bacteriologist of St. Louis, is expected tomorrow.

About 400 Springfield rifles are known to be in transit to Nevada from the

ORPET RESUMES HIS STORY UNDER CROSS-QUESTIONS

Makes Evasive Replies When Asked as to His Feelings Toward Lambert Girl.

SPEAKS WITH ASSURANCE

Says He Had Understanding With Miss Youker, but Is Not Engaged.

WAUKESHA, Ill., June 27.—William H. Orpet, 20-year-old University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, his school girl sweetheart, took the stand again today to continue his story of her death. After a few questions by his attorneys he was turned over to the state for cross-examination.

Attorney Ralph F. Potter of the defense asked Orpet about the water and molasses which he sent to Marion "to relieve her mind." One of these bottles he sent to her, the other he brought to her on Feb. 9th, the day of her death.

"I bought the bottle, of six ounce size of Otto Peterson and filled it two-thirds full in my room," he said.

Orpet testified yesterday that Marion when he met her in Helm's Woods refused to accept it, saying "that will not do me any good."

Orpet was in better voice than yesterday and talked with more assurance.

"Why did you tell State's Attorney Dady that you were at Madison on Feb. 9th?" asked Mr. Potter.

"Well, the way things were I thought it would look bad," replied the witness.

"What were your relations with Celestia Youker?" asked Attorney Potter.

The courtroom became very quiet as every ear was strained to hear Orpet's reply.

"There was a tacit understanding between us. I had known her six years," he said.

"Did she return your affections?"

"At all times."

"Not always."

"You were engaged?"

No Date for Marriage.

"No, there was an understanding. No date was set for marriage. I had not even formally asked her to marry me."

Mr. Potter next asked concerning certain answers Orpet was reported to have made to various reporters at the time of his arrest. The principal ones were:

"Did you tell Mr. Dady or any one else that you saw Marion take poison?"

"No, I did not."

"Did you tell reporters that Marion and other girls of humble parentage felt flattered at the attentions of college men?"

"I certainly did not."

Orpet was then turned over to the state for cross-examination. Attorney David R. Joslyn, who is assisting State's Attorney Dady, asked about an automobile ride which Marion and Orpet took last September.

"Did you drive with both hands on the wheel?" inquired Mr. Joslyn.

"Not that I remember. I can't pretend to remember all such little things."

"You could drive with one hand."

"Yes."

It was on this trip that the relations between the young pair became intimate, the witness admitted.

"Did you tell me that to Marion?"

"I can't remember."

"Well, make a guess."

"I can't guess, as that would be independent of any real memory."

"On the way home did you make love to her?"

"I think not."

Evasive About His Feelings.

"Were you in love with her?"

Orpet hesitated for a minute, then replied:

"Judging from my letters later, I think not."

"Oh, you were desperately in love."

"JUDGE HENNING'S INFLUENCED," SAYS JUDGE HOLTCAMP

Affidavit in Appeal Case Says St. Louis Union Trust Has Undue Standing With Him.

In an affidavit filed in Judge Hennings' division of the Circuit Court today, Judge Holtcamp of the Probate Court swore that he believed "that the St. Louis-Union Trust Co. has an undue influence over Judge Hennings."

This declaration was made in connection with Judge Holtcamp's application for a change of venue in a case in which the St. Louis Union Trust Co. had applied for a mandamus to compel Judge Holtcamp to grant an appeal from his appointment of Henry A. Baker as administrator pendente lite of the estate of Theresa Bernero. Mrs. Bernero's will, which is being contested in the courts, named the St. Louis Union Trust Co. as executor.

Judge Ordered to Grant Appeal.

Judge Hennings, about a week ago, ordered Judge Holtcamp either to grant the appeal or to appear in court today and show cause why he should not grant it.

Judge Holtcamp did not appear, but was represented by his attorney, Thomas D. Cannon, who filed the affidavit.

Attorney John M. Goodman, representing heirs, said he would not oppose the application for a change of venue, but he did not think it right for a judge to risk such an affidavit as setting the integrity of another judge.

Cannon retorted that Goodman's remarks were "evidently for the benefit of the audience."

Judge Hennings, from the bench, said: "Mr. Cannon, you will ask Judge Holtcamp to come up here and make that statement in open court."

"I will not," replied Cannon. "The affidavit speaks for itself."

Judge Hennings then said: "I do not know the officers of the St. Louis Union Trust Co., and any statement that I am or have been influenced by them is false. From this bench I have already made a temporary order to show cause. The statement in the affidavit is a direct reflection on the integrity of that order. I would not mind if the affidavit had alleged that I was prejudiced. I will grant the change of venue, although the same object would have been gained if Judge Holtcamp had requested that the case be transferred to another court."

Case Goes to Judge Arnold.

Judge Hennings then certified the case to Judge Arnold's court. After leaving the bench he refused to discuss the affidavit, saying that all the statement he desired to make had been made in open court.

Judge Holtcamp also refused to talk.

"The affidavit speaks for itself," he said. "I do not desire to say more than that."

DRIVER KILLED WHEN CAR HITS HIS WAGON IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Employee of St. Louis Department Store Run Over — Boy With Him Injured.

William O'Brien, 37 years old, driver of a delivery wagon for the Famous & Barr store, was killed by an Alton electric car at Ohio and Collinsville avenues, East St. Louis, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The car struck the front of the wagon and O'Brien was thrown under the car, which ran over him.

Edward Patterson, 14, of 280 Cass avenue, who was with O'Brien, was knocked from the cart and bruised. He was sent to St. Mary's Hospital. The East St. Louis police did not learn O'Brien's St. Louis address. The horse driven by O'Brien was killed in the accident.

PLATTSBURG TRAINING CAMP IS OPEN TO ST. LOUIS MEN

Enrollment in Progress This Week for Session Beginning July 12, Ending Aug. 8.

Recruits will be enrolled in St. Louis this week for the citizens' military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., July 12 to Aug. 8, Frederick O. Ludlow, district manager of the Bell Telephone Co., is in charge of the enrollment, and his office at 414 Locust street will be temporary headquarters for this work.

Those who go to the Plattsburg camp will not be in any way obligated to enlist in the army, but they will learn the rudimentary essentials of military service. Besides three more camps for men at Plattsburg this summer, beginning July 12, Aug. 10 and Sept. 3, a camp for youths from 18 to 21 years of age will be held, July 5 to Aug. 8. It is expected that the Government will pay the transportation and the youths' expenses of the men and the youths.

Fifty St. Louisans recently signed applications for the proposed camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis. Because of a lack of officers this camp was abandoned, but St. Louisans will be accepted for the Plattsburg camp on the same terms which were to apply to the Indianapolis camp.

NATIVE CONSTABULARY AT NAMIQUIPA HELPS AMERANS

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, Mex., via army motor truck to Columbus, N. M., June 27.—An efficient mounted native constabulary today policed the Namiquipa district. The corps was organized by officers of the United States expedition that the Mexicans might protect themselves and their homes. Ranging the canyons and foothills of the surrounding country, the members of the force have already paid the Americans for their administrative efforts by uncovering numerous caches of Villista rifles, machine guns and ammunition.

Whether or not the corps will be permanent can only be speculated on, but citizens in the vicinity assert that since its organization there has been a marked decrease in crime.

YOUTHS OF 18 MAY ENLIST WITHOUT PARENTAL CONSENT

Army Recruiting Officer Receives Word National Defense Act Is in Effect.

Maj. George W. Goode, U. S. A., in charge of the St. Louis recruiting district, today received advice from the War Department that the National Defense Act is in force and that recruits from 18 to 21 years of age may be accepted for enlistment without parental consent.

Maj. Goode expects recruiting to be stimulated by this action, as fully half the applicants, since the call for the militia was sent out, have been minors. The Defense Act also provides that recruits from 18 to 21 years of age may be accepted if they all the requirements, but they must have parental consent.

The act holds out inducements that are expected to prove attractive to the prospective recruit. The most important of these is that it will be possible to be discharged from service one year from enlistment, if the recruit attains a high grade of proficiency and efficiency and granted a furlough to the reserves.

The act also provides for appointment by the President to a cadetship at West Point of men from the ranks, between the ages of 19 and 22 years, so that in addition to receiving a military education it is possible to obtain a commission.

During the last five days 276 men have applied for enlistment at the four recruiting stations in the city. Of this number 69 were accepted, the others being rejected for physical disability or age. The four recruiting stations are: Headquarters, old Customs House at Third and Olive streets; Third and Washington; Eleventh and Market and Nineteenth and Market.

PRESIDENT NOT TO WAIT ON CARRANZA MORE THAN 48 HOURS

Unless Satisfactory Reply Is Received, He Is Expected to Go Before Congress.

WAR DEPARTMENT MAKING GOOD USE OF THE DELAY

Red Tape Eliminated in Dispatch of State Troops to Border — Americans Rapidly Getting Out of Mexico — President Thanks Employers Who Will Pay Militiamen.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—There were clear indications today that if American cavalrymen captured by Mexican troops at Carrizal were not released within 48 hours action would be taken by the United States.

The impression prevailed in official circles that President Wilson would not wait beyond Thursday at the latest and possibly not beyond tomorrow afternoon for a definite reply from the Carranza Government to the note demanding the immediate release of the prisoners and a declaration of intentions.

Discussion of the Mexican situation occupied today a brief session of the cabinet. When it was over Secretary Lansing announced there was no change, that the administration was waiting word from Gen. Carranza and Secretary Baker and Daniels said no new army or navy orders had been given.

While the diplomatic aspects of the crisis await Carranza's action, the War Department is increasing its efforts to mobilize the national guard on the border. It is certain that no aggressive military operations can be undertaken until a substantial number of state troops is available to back up Gen. Funston's regulars.

President Wilson's first step, should he decide to force the issue, probably would be to lay the whole situation before Congress in joint session. It is believed he so informed members of the Foreign Relations Committee of both houses in his conference with them Sunday night.

Specific authority under which the national guard can be employed beyond the border and also authorization for calling out volunteers, would be needed. Mexican officials here have expressed the opinion that Gen. Carranza would surrender the American prisoners, whatever reply he might make to the demand for a formal diplomatic expression of his purposes.

Every day sees the army in better position for swift action. This has influenced against pressing matters to an immediate issue.

Advices from Gen. Funston's headquarters indicate that trains loaded with state troops are rushing southward today from many parts of the country.

Americans Rapidly Getting Out.

Another indication of the progress of getting Americans out of Mexico. The number there has been reduced to less than 1000.

Secretary Daniels stated today that the Navy Department had now supplied ample accommodations for all refugees who may reach the sea coast. The Atlantic fleet will not be ordered to Mexican waters, he said, except "under exceptional circumstances."

State Department officials took formal notice today of the activities in the United States of agents of the Carranza bureau of information. Reports as to conditions and international relations are telegraphed from Mexico City to the United States by the bureau for publication. Officials suggested that the American press should scrutinize these reports carefully before using them.

Secretary Lansing yesterday prevented even formal proposal of mediation by telling Minister Calderon of demands of President Wilson to release the prisoners taken at Carrizal. Coupled with this refusal may be a terse declaration "to further discuss the matter" in debate between the United States and Mexico.

Almost immediately after the American agent, Mr. Rodgers, delivered the latest American note at the Foreign Office it was said before Gen. Carranza. He had read it by noon and immediately work on drafting a reply was begun.

A prolonged conference between Rodgers and Assistant Secretary Amador of the Foreign Office followed the receipt of the note in which was demanded the release of the American and other prisoners.

President Thanks Employers.

President Wilson expressed to call his appreciation of the announcement of business houses throughout the country that their employees would be permitted to serve with the national guard without loss of salaries or positions. Several employers have sent announcements direct to the White House and the President has written thanking them. To one New York company, whose offer reached him today, he wrote:

"The patriotic response of the business men of America in the present unusual circumstances of the country, has been what I, personally, confident, expected it would be, and it affords me genuine pleasure to have this opportunity to express my admiration and gratification."

That U. S. Is Trying to Force War

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 27.—During the last two days there have been numerous diplomatic exchanges between the Foreign Offices of Chile, Argentina and Brazil concerning the existing relations of the United States and Mexico.

national questions pending between the two governments.

It is not unlikely that Mexico will assert her right to retain the Carrizal prisoners under the circumstances, and may take the position that her attitude on the matter is already in prior communication to the United States Government.

Mexico's position in the international situation was outlined last night in a statement given out by the Foreign Office, in which is embodied the declaration sent Sunday night by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Gen. Candido Aguilar, after reciting the incidents at Matamoros and Mazatlan, the statement says:

"The American Government has ordered the rapid mobilization of its army for our frontier with manifest hostility, seeking to bring about a war which neither the Government nor the people of Mexico provoke.

"Although an unjust and unequal war seems to be inevitable, the Government of Mexico, as well as the people, are resolved to defend this country's sovereignty and absolute independence, even at the cost of the blood of its sons and the destruction of its resources.

"The Government believes, and it is fully manifest that the conduct of the American Government does not comport with its protestations of friendship to the Spanish-American republics, that its unjustifiable proceedings toward Mexico will affect our sister republics; that it is seeking to rupture the bonds of union which, through a community of ideas, or origin, and in which we should be united and in which we must be united in order to obtain solidarity for the future."

2 NEGRO TROOPERS IN JUAREZ JAIL

Fair Believed to Be Survivors of the Encounter at Carrizal.

EL PASO, Tex., June 27.—Two negro troopers, ragged and suffering from hardships, were lodged in the jail at Juarez today, after being brought from the scene where they were captured by the de facto Government troops.

They are believed to be survivors of the Carrizal encounter.

Neither their names nor their companies were given out by the Juarez authorities, who announced that they would be taken to Chihuahua City and kept there with the other prisoners taken at Carrizal, who number 22, excluding Lem Spillbury, the scout.

Brazilian Deputies Debate Crisis Between U. S. and Mexico.

RIO JANEIRO, June 27.—The keen interest with which Brazil is following the developments of the crisis between the United States and Mexico received a new impetus today, following a spirited discussion in the Chamber of Deputies, in which an opposition deputy made a bitter attack on the United States.

The discussion was opened by this deputy who, commenting on the last note sent to Mexico by Secretary Lansing, declared he was astonished that the United States should make difficulties in accepting the explanations of Mexico, while promptly accepting those of Germany in regard to the submarine war. The speaker declared that Germany was continuing its undersea campaign in violation of its promise to Washington and that the United States "did not dare to do so."

Deputy Souza Silver, speaking for the Government, defended the international policy of the administration and declared that Brazil stood firmly for the solidarity and fraternity of the American nations. He said that the United States voyage to the United States of Dr. Lauro Muller, Minister of Foreign Affairs, had to do with the Mexican situation.

Buenos Aires Receives Plea From Gen. Aguilar for Support.

BUENOS AIRES, June 27.—Foreign Minister Jose Luis Murature has received a message from Gen. Candido Aguilar, Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, containing an appeal for the support of the Governments of Latin America in Mexico's controversy with the United States. Gen. Aguilar declares that the United States is attempting to maintain by force in weak countries unjust claims on the part of its citizens. He contends that by agreement foreigners in Mexico who acquire property after a certain period of time renounce the protection of their respective governments.

Minister Murature has also received a telegram from Dr. Romulo S. Naon, Argentine Minister at Washington, expressing the hope that the difficulties between Mexico and the United States will be settled peacefully.

Mexicans Planned to Raid Mine Storehouses at Bisbee, Ariz.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 27.—Activity of Mexican troops at Nacoztlan yesterday was explained today by information that had reached headquarters that the Mexicans had planned to sweep across the line to Bisbee, Ariz., and there raid the offices and storehouses of the copper smelting concerns. The Twenty-second Infantry was rushed from Douglas to Bisbee last night.

Fillustering Party, Bound for Mexico, Turned Back at Nogales, Ariz.

NOGALES, Ariz., June 27.—A filibustering party, organized to cross the line at Bisbee and bring back an automobile seized by the Mexican authorities, was broken up here last night by the military authorities. Eighteen men, all armed, were leaving town in six automobiles, when a squad of infantry barred the road.

Col. W. H. Sage, commanding, told the men that a raid into Mexico would be the signal for retaliatory moves by Mexicans which would endanger Americans all along the Arizona border. He said he would have them arrested if they approached Bisbee armed and would turn them over for prosecution on a charge of breach of neutrality.

TROOPS JOKED AS THEY FOUGHT, CAPT. MOREY SAYS

All Realized They Had Been Trapped and That There Was Little Chance of Escape—Ammunition Gave Out.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, Mexico, June 26, by wireless to Columbus, N. M.

"For 45 minutes the men fought, joking among themselves all the while, even though they realized we had been trapped and had little chance of getting out alive," said Capt. Lewis S. Morey in telling of the Carrizal fight when he reached field headquarters today.

Capt. Morey said that he had never seen such valor as was displayed by Capt. Charles T. Boyd in leading a handful of dismounted skirmishers through the machine gun fire and into the ambush of death. He added that it was not until their ammunition was exhausted that the troops were finally out to pieces, and he told of the death of Lieut. Henry R. Adair of Portland, Ore., in an attempt to replenish it.

Lieut. Adair died fighting, his last words being "Go on, Sergeant," to a noncommissioned officer at his side, Capt. Morey said.

On Way for Ammunition.

The two were on their way to pack animals carrying the ammunition when they were intercepted near a small irrigation ditch by a detail of the Mexicans. Lieut. Adair had already been wounded and had lost his pistol in the previous fighting, but he had borrowed another and was fighting a hand-to-hand battle when he was killed. He fell backwards unconscious and was caught by the negro Sergeant as he slid toward the ditch, which was deeply filled with water. The sergeant held Adair in his arms, his face above the water until he died, the wounded officer reviving only long enough to whisper orders to leave him and finish the mission.

Capt. Morey said that Capt. Boyd told him before the fight that they were advancing into the greatest danger.

The size of the field and the cover from which the Mexicans fought made it necessary for his troop and that of Capt. Boyd to separate and to fight what were practically individual engagements, Capt. Morey said. Capt. Morey was brought here by troops of the Eleventh Cavalry sent to rescue Carrizal survivors after having led a handful of starving, exhausted troops to safety over a sun-baked desert to relief. The few crumbs of food they had were carried in their handkerchiefs and in their first-aid kits, while what water they had was carried in a baking powder tin which they had picked up on the roadside.

Tells of His Escape.

Morey told how he escaped the three troopers with him to go on when he became so weak of his wounds that he could not proceed. Morey, his wounds bandaged as best they could be, lay down in the desert and slept. The stars still were out, but dawn was breaking when he awoke, strengthened by the rest. He forced himself to his feet and staggered on in the direction in which he thought lay Santo Domingo ranch, eight miles from Carrizal, and the point where the command had bivouacked the night before the fight. He traveled without a compass, having given his compass, along with a telegram to be sent to his wife and dispatches for Pershing, to the three men when they left him.

The House resolution which authorized the President to draft national guard troops into the Federal service was adopted by the Senate yesterday after the $100,000 appropriation had been stricken out and a provision substituted under which militiamen, having families dependent on them could be excused from service. A preamble declaring that an emergency, now exists requiring the service of troops other than the regular army also was eliminated.

FIRST REGIMENT MACHINE GUNNERS CRACK MARKSMEN

Their Weapon They Use Weighs 26 Pounds, and Can Be Made Ready in a Minute.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEVADA, Mo., June 27.—The machine gun company of the First Regiment, commanded by Capt. Norman Comfort, has the reputation of being the best marksmen in the brigade.

The type of gun used by the First Regiment machine gun company is the 1908 model, Bennett-Mercer. It weighs 26 pounds, can be conveniently transported over the roughest country on mule-back, and can be unpacked for action in one minute. It shoots "30-30" cartridges—30 in an inch in diameter and containing 30 grains of powder—under normal conditions at the rate of about 200 per minute. Greater accuracy is obtained if the speed is kept down to 180 shots per minute.

Two men form a machine gun crew, the "gunner" and the "loader." The first lies down directly back of the gun sights and fires the piece; the other, prostrate at the right side, inserts the cartridge clips brought forward by ammunition carriers. The loader's position is the more dangerous, because he has the minimum protection.

The Bennett-Mercer is the type of machine gun used by the United States Army—that which is said to have jammed under Villa's bandits were raiding Columbus, N. M., several months ago. First Regiment machine gun operators said that the gun will not jam if kept in good condition, is well oiled and handled with intelligence.

Main Sections of Gun.

The main sections of the gun are the barrel and the receiver, containing the firing, reloading and ejecting mechanism. At the tip of the barrel is the "rest," which elevates the muzzle of the rifle about 18 inches above the ground. The barrel is cooled by a small radiator, but frequently in action becomes almost red hot and has to be changed about every two and a half hours. This is done with asbestos mittens.

At the back of the barrel is the magazine, into which the clips containing 30 cartridges feed automatically from the right side.

The feed-piece pushes the cartridges into the chamber, where they are fired and ejected in the twinkling of an eye. During brisk action the shells spout out of the side of the machine gun in an unbroken stream. The guns are accurate up to 2000 yards and will reach three miles. They cost approximately $1600.

The stock is equipped with a special pistol grip, with which to steady the gun, and also with the elevating screw and slide bar. The former raises and lowers the stock of the gun. The latter allows it to slide on a short bar, a little above the ground, over a shoulder or a tripod.

The First Regiment machine gun company has 4 guns and is recruited to peace strength, or 53 men. The company held machine gun practice on the rifle range near St. Charles. Officers of the company are: Norman Comfort, Captain; Edwin J. Rief, First Lieutenant; M. Holmes and J. Pearson, Second Lieutenants.

Lieutenant-Colonel Philip J. Kealy probably will be elected to command the Third Regiment of Kansas City, the resignation of Col. Fred A. Lamb, because of ill health, having been accepted. Col. Lamb is confined to his home suffering from inflammatory rheumatism. He asked to be placed on the militia reserves.

Hysterical mothers at Edina, Mo., are said to be responsible for the fact that only 21 members out of a total of 65 have re-enlisted in the Edina company of the Fourth Regiment. This company has been combined with the Columbia, Mo., machine gun company of the Fourth Infantry, to form a new Company F of the Fourth.

The new company is commanded by Capt. E. E. Major, a nephew of Gov. Major. Capt. Stanley Parsons of the Edina company has re-enlisted as a private in the new F. Company.

Chaplain Weighs 200 Pounds.

Father J. J. Lonergan of St. Matthew's parish, St. Louis, arrived at First Regiment headquarters to fill the post of chaplain of the regiment. He is six feet tall and weighs more than 200 pounds.

REBELS' FLAG IS ON EXHIBITION AT CASEMENT TRIAL

Prisoner Smiles Nervously as Emblem Taken From His Handbag Is Unfolded.

LONDON, June 27.—The second day of the trial of Sir Roger Casement for high treason opened with no change in the apathetic attitude with which the general public regards the case.

The atmosphere of the courtroom is not that of a trial for life, and the Chief Justice was compelled yesterday to insist that there must be no laughter in court. The laughter was evoked by the reappearance of the Irish soldier witnesses.

The attitude of Casement himself is far from being one of gravity. He appears neither crushed nor subdued by the seriousness of his position, and takes the proceedings in a most casual manner. The prisoner appeared to be in a cheerful frame of mind as he entered the dock, although he displayed little of the jauntiness shown at the preliminary examination.

Mary Gorman, a servant girl, identified Sir Roger as one of three men she met hurrying away from the beach early Friday morning. She was followed by Thomas Hearn, a Sergeant in the Irish Constabulary, who told of tracing Sir Roger to the ruined fort in the vicinity of which he arrested him. Hearn identified revolvers, maps of Ireland and a flag of the revolutionists which were found in a hand bag.

One police witness said that although the carrying of arms and drilling were prohibited by the authorities, the landing of arms would have had a very grave effect.

Alleged Code Introduced.

During the testimony of Constable Riley, who assisted in the arrest of Sir Roger, the prosecution introduced a paper on which was written a code Sir Roger is said to have thrown away. This paper was picked up and given to Riley. The prosecution has laid great stress on the importance of this code, which, it contends, was intended for communication with Germans.

Appropriate series of numbers were sentences such as "send cannons and ammunition" and "send more explosives." The prosecution attempted to establish that some of the penciled figures were German characters.

The testimony was disposed of rapidly this morning, and a large number of witnesses appeared for the prosecution. Much of the testimony was corroborative. Sidney Wabhorn, leading signalman on the British patrol boat Bluebell, told the oft-repeated story of how the ammunition ship Aud was held up on suspicion by the Blue Bell off Tralee on the morning of the landing.

The prosecution rested its case suddenly, shortly after the luncheon recess, and the Attorney-General announced that he had no statement to make.

Attorney Sullivan immediately began an address in an attempt to have the indictment quashed. His argument was highly technical, being an effort to show that the alleged treasonable acts were committed outside British realms and could not be tried in Great Britain.

Canadian Officer Exonerated.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 27.—The charge against Lieut. Ernest Austin of the Canadian army of enlisting men here for the Canadian army in violation of the neutrality laws, was dismissed yesterday.

Lieut. Austin, 31, was charged with enlisting men here for the Canadian army in violation of the neutrality laws, was dismissed yesterday.

A violent rainstorm swept through camp early yesterday morning, blowing down several officers' tents and creating minor damage. No one was injured. Col. A. B. Donnelly was drenched when the shelter tent in front of his sleeping quarters was blown away and he attempted to close the tent flap.

Mrs. May E. Spencer of 1622 Arlington avenue, her son, Corwin, and 10-month-old daughter, Jane, and Miss Ethel Hawk of 6170 McPherson avenue, are guests of Lieut. W. H. Spencer.

One-fourth of the office force of Price-Waterhouse & Co., public accountants, all Regular University graduates, are members of the First Regiment machine gun company. They are: Charles Townsend, Harry C. Crane, Walter F. Dick and W. F. Jones. None is a naturalized citizen, but all have taken out first papers.

Says U. S. Should Withdraw Its Recognition of Carranza To Be Consistent in Present Course

By STERLING E. EDMUNDS, Lecturer on International Law, St. Louis University Law School.

HE long-continued situation of anarchy in Mexico constitutes an international nuisance which the United States, as a suffering neighbor society, has the right, under settled principles of international law, to abate.

The sending of United States troops into Mexico is, generally speaking, a high act of international police, undertaken in default of the ability or willingness of Mexico to discharge its international obligations.

There are three conspicuous instances in the history of the United States bearing upon the present situation.

The first is the case of the steamboat Caroline, in which sympathizers from the United States with the Canadian revolutionists of 1837 planned an expedition against Canada from United States jurisdiction. The British authorities seized the vessel at Schlosser, N. Y., and set it adrift over Niagara Falls. The United States accepted an apology from Great Britain for this invasion of our territory and admitted its justification under the circumstances.

The second instance is the seizure of Amelia Island, at the mouth of St. Mary's River, in October, 1817, by United States forces in order to put down a band of buccanniers under the leadership of an adventurer named McGregor. This island belonged to Spain, and, in spite of repeated protest against the activity of the outlaws, Spain had been unable or unwilling to exterminate them.

Secretary of State Adams said, with regard to the matter, in 1818: "When an island is occupied by a nest of pirates harassing the commerce of the United States, they may be pursued and driven from it by authority of the United States, even though such island were nominally under the jurisdiction of Spain, Spain not exercising over it any control."

A third instance occurred in 1815, when President Monroe sent General Jackson into the Spanish territory of Florida to destroy outlaws who had committed depredations upon United States territory. In this case, as in that of Amelia Island, Spain had committed depredations upon United States territory. In this case, as in that of Amelia Island, Spain had been called upon herself to undertake to abate the nuisance but had failed to do so. As Secretary Adams said in this case:

"When the sovereign of a territory permits it to be made the base of hostilities by outlaws and savages against a country with which such sovereign is at peace, the Government of the latter country is entitled, as a matter of necessity to pursue the assailants wherever they may be and to take such measures as are necessary to put an end to their aggressions."

There is this to be said, however, in defense of the attitude of Gen. Carranza in forcibly opposing the progress of United States troops upon Mexican territory: in spite of the evident inability of Carranza's de facto Government to discharge the international obligations of Mexico, the United States has recognized him as the head of the Government and that recognition carries with it by implication the duty of the United States to rely upon the Carranza Government for the protection of its rights rather than that of protection itself.

When revolution sunders the political fabric of a country, other States extend recognition to one or the other contending parties only when they are satisfied that such party is capable and willing to protect foreigners and their property, and otherwise discharge that State's duties under the laws of nations. Until such recognition is extended other States realize that they may have to undertake independently, within such revolutionary territory, the protection of their rights, and they are justified, in the absence of any adequate organization within such territory, in dispatching troops thither when they deem necessary.

On October 19, 1915, the United States recognized Carranza as first chief in the de facto government. The effect of this recognition was to surrender our right of independent action and place our reliance on Carranza, at least until such time as the Carranza government manifestly exhibited its incapacity.

When the Columbus raid occurred, consistency required that an appeal be made to Carranza to exterminate Villa and his band, disavow their acts, an indemnity American sufferers, rather than immediately dispatch troops upon Mexican territory. The dispatch of troops amounted to a denial in fact of Carranza's capacity fully to discharge his obligations to us, and contradicted the admission of our recognition of his government. Consistency would, therefore, require that the United States withdraw its recognition of Carranza in order to regularize the sending of troops into Mexico, for so long as the United States continues the United States is estopped from violating that recognition by acts incompatible with it.

U. S. EXPERIMENTERS WORK ON UNUSUALLY DEADLY GAS BOMB

Successful Aerial and Incendiary Explosive Missiles Also Made at Philadelphia Arsenal.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—That satisfactory results have been obtained in experiments on gas bombs, incendiary bombs, aerial bombs and hand grenades at the Frankfort arsenal has been made known by Col. George Montgomery.

Experiments are now being conducted with a new gas bomb which will contain a combination of sulphur dioxide, a deadly gas, and several other gases so poisonous that the manufacture of them is attended with the greatest difficulties. It is proposed to so arrange the bomb that the gases when fired will spread over a large territory and reduce the number required to be used.

Aerial bombs, satisfactory in a high degree, and upon a new principle, are under construction.

300 Arkansas Miners Strike.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 27.—Eight hundred miners employed in the mines of the American Bauxite Co., at Bauxite, 20 miles from Little Rock, have struck for higher wages. They demand an increase of from $1.75 to $2.25 a day.

YOUTH, ARRESTED OFTEN FOR PETTY OFFENSES, SLAIN

Leo Laffey Shot Mysteriously in Alley at Rear of 6454 Wise Avenue.

A youth identified by police, Bertillon records as Leo Laffey, alias E. C. Dasey, 19 years old, and with a history of having been arrested 18 times by the St. Louis police in the last three years, was shot by a "bad" fellow dead this morning by an unidentified person in an alley in the rear of the home of Frank Fenton, 6454 Wise avenue. Mrs. Fenton, who heard the shots, ran to a window and saw Laffey stagger into her back yard. She heard him cry out, "I'm shot," just before he fell dead.

One of three shots entered Laffey's left side and penetrated both lungs. Another hit the wall of a shed in the Fenton back yard and the bullet was recovered by the police. It was a 22 caliber, steel-jacketed magazine revolver bullet.

At 12:30 p. m. the police, working on a general description furnished by persons who saw a man running away from the vicinity of the shooting, arrested Francis J. Hammerle, also known as Murphy, at Sarah and Olive streets. Hammerle is a "bad" fellow and was known to have been with him Sunday. Hammerle is a chauffeur, 30 years old, and lives at 2800 North Sarah street. He denied having seen Laffey since Sunday. The police questioned him about a fresh bruise on his right hand. He said he got it cracking an automobile.

Laffey's last address known to the police was 1512A Bellgrade avenue. He had formerly lived at the Blue Grass hotel, 408 Olive street, having given that address when he was arrested May 18 last, according to the police.

Laffey's arrests, as shown by the police records, were chiefly for petty offenses and he never was convicted of a serious offense.

FREE MEDICAL AID FOR DEPENDENTS OF MILITIAMEN

Physician's Society to Treat All Who Are in Need of Aid.

Medical aid for the dependent families of militiamen who have gone to the front will be given without charge by the 350 members of the St. Louis Medical Society, according to a decision of the society made known yesterday to Chairman Wade of the temporary committee working out the relief plan. Eight hospitals also have agreed to gratuitously care for members of militiamen's families upon request.

Reports of such persons needing medical attention should be sent to the headquarters of the Medical Society, Dr. Louis C. Bollinger, president of the society, said today. Wherever possible the family physician will be sent.

Patrol Boat Models Ordered.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The navy department today authorized the purchase of two motor boats to be put on exhibition as models for yachtsmen interested in coast patrol work. The boats will be of two types, one 18 and the other 45 feet in length.

With a Book of "Papers" and "Bull" Durham You Can Easily Make a Cigarette That Will Give You Greatest Enjoyment.

To obtain a cigarette that exactly suits your personal taste is an easy matter—simply get a sack of "Bull" Durham and "roll your own."

The far greater enjoyment and satisfaction you get from such a cigarette is surprising.

"Bull" Durham is pre-eminently the cigarette tobacco—the choicest Virginia-Carolina leaf grown.

By using "Bull" Durham and rolling his own the smoker not only has the advantage of the delicious mellow-sweetness and perfect mildness that this famous tobacco gives him, but he can also roll his cigarette to his personal liking, and he has a much fresher and more fragrant smoke.

In no other way can a cigarette with so much individuality be obtained than by "rolling your own" with "Bull" Durham.

HUGHES INDORSED BY PROGRESSIVES, VOTE IS 32 TO 6

National Committee Decides to Work for the Election of the Republican Nominee.

SOME OPPOSED TO PLAN

Declaration Says Old Party Has Adopted Many of the Vital Principles Insisted Upon.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 27.—By a vote of 32 to 6, nine members not voting and three being absent, the Progressive National Committee yesterday indorsed the candidacy of Charles E. Hughes for President.

The vacancy at the head of the Moore ticket, caused by the declaration of Col. Roosevelt to accept the nomination for President, was not filled and will not be filled, as the Progressive party was snugly tucked away in its political grave.

To make sure that this party had passed away, the committee, after giving its indorsement to Hughes without any strings, directed the Executive Committee to ally itself with the Hughes campaign and do all in its power to aid in his election.

Then, adjourning sine die, the committee departed, leaving Col. John M. Parker of Louisiana, the party's candidate for Vice President, to assuage his grief as best he may.

He is still on the ticket, but it has no head and will not have. Whether he will resign or decide to go it alone and do what damage he can to Charles Warren Fairbanks will be determined after he has returned to Louisiana and had time to think it over.

Robins May Be for Wilson. An effort to name Victor Murdock of Kansas for President was overwhelmingly voted down. Raymond Robins, chairman of the recent Progressive convention, announced that if he had to decide right now he probably would sign up with the Wilson forces. He will not make his decision final, however, until after Mr. Hughes has made his statement to the Notification Committee.

There is still a chance that Robins may land in the Hughes camp, although he expects he will drop over on the Wilson side of the fence when the Democrat before joining the Progressives.

The fight in the committee to indorse Hughes was led by George W. Perkins of New York, James R. Garfield of Ohio and Chester H. Rowell of California. The radical element in the committee represented by Matthew Hale of Massachusetts, Bainbridge Colby of New York, Henry F. Cochems of Wisconsin and John M. Parker of Louisiana, vigorously protested against the indorsement of any candidate for President.

Secretary Oscar King Davis read Col. Roosevelt's letter in which he finally declined the presidential nomination of the party and urged that Hughes be supported by Progressives in order to defeat President Wilson, and an attempt was made to name Victor Murdock of Kansas in his place.

Raymond Robins of Illinois said Murdock had told him he would not accept the presidential nomination and the proposition to run a third party ticket was defeated, 31 to 10.

James R. Garfield of Ohio then introduced a resolution indorsing Hughes for President, and a debate of several hours followed. Bainbridge Colby argued it would be a mistake to attempt to deliver the Progressive vote to any candidate and that the method used might defeat the very object of the action. John M. Parker made a fiery protest against any indorsement. He intimated that he might vote for President Wilson.

Chairman Hale made an earnest appeal against the indorsement before the vote was taken.

How the States Voted. The following states voted for the indorsement of Hughes on the roll call: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, Wyoming and Hawaii.

The resolutions adopted indorsing Hughes, offered by James R. Garfield of Ohio, read as follows:

"Whereas a statement issued by this committee in January, 1916, in which it was declared that the Progressive party adopted by the Progressive national convention, set forth that putting aside all partisan considerations, in view of existing world and national conditions, we would work with any man or party who saw the nation's need and put forth a leader fit to meet it, and, whereas we believe with Col. Roosevelt, that in nominating Charles E. Hughes of New York the Republican party has put forth such a leader, we therefore indorse and concur in the recommendation of Col.

Hughes Answers in Part His Critics Who Inquire, What Would You Have Done?

NEW YORK, June 27.—The following telegram was sent yesterday by Charles E. Hughes to O. K. Davis, secretary of the Progressive national convention, in response to a message notifying the former Justice that he had been endorsed by the Progressives:

"I welcome the support of Progressives. We make common cause in the interest of national honor, of national security, of national efficiency. We unite in the demand for an undivided and unwavering loyalty to our country, for a wholehearted patriotic devotion overriding all racial differences. We want a revival of the American spirit—a nation restored. We insist upon prompt and adequate provision for the common defense; upon the steadfast maintenance of all the rights of all citizens and upon the integrity of international law.

"The most serious difficulties the present administration has encountered have been due to its own weakness and ineptitude. I am profoundly convinced that by prompt and decisive action, which existing conditions manifestly called for, the Lusitania tragedy would have been prevented. We strongly denounce the use of our soil as a base for alien intrigues, for conspiracies and the fomenting of disorders in the interest of any foreign nation, but the responsibility lies at the door of the administration. The moment notice is admitted, responsibility is affirmed. For that sort of thing could not continue if the administration took proper measures to stop it. That responsibility the administration cannot evade by condemning others.

Quotes Note to Mexico. "It was officially stated by the Secretary of State in the Mexican note of June 20, 1916, that for three years the Mexican republic has been torn with civil strife; the lives of Americans and other aliens have been sacrificed; vast properties developed by American capital and enterprise have been destroyed or rendered non-productive; bandits have been permitted to roam at will through territory contiguous to the United States and to seize, without punishment or without effective attempt at punishment, the property of Americans, while the citizens of the United States who ventured to remain in Mexican territory or to return there to protect their interests have been taken, in some cases barbarously taken, and the murderers have never been apprehended nor brought to justice.

"What an indictment by the administration of its Mexican policy! And still we are unprepared. That unpreparedness in the midst of perils, and after the experience of three years, is a demonstration of an unpardonable neglect for which the administration is responsible.

"The Government now has and must have most emphatically the unstinted and patriotic support of every citizen in the existing emergency. But unquestioning, loyal and patriotic support of the Government is one thing; approval of the fatuous course which the administration has followed is quite another. I cannot in this message adequately review that course; that I shall do later.

"No intelligent man is deceived by the temporary prosperity due to abnormal conditions, and no one can fail to appreciate the gravity of the problems with which we shall be faced when the war ends. We are alive to the imperative necessity of assuring the basis of honest business.

"I am in deep sympathy with the effort to improve the conditions of labor; to prevent exploitation; to safeguard the future of the nation by protecting our women and children. I believe in workmen's compensation laws; in wise conservation of our national resources so that they may be protected and developed and used to the utmost public advantage.

"But underlying every endeavor to promote social justice there shall be a stable foundation for honorable enterprise.

Protection for Labor. "American industry must have proper protection if labor is to be safeguarded. We must rescue our instrumentalities of interstate and foreign commerce, our transportation facilities from uncertainty and confusion. We must show that we know how to protect the public without destroying or crippling our productive energies.

"To what agency shall we look for Roosevelt that we support Mr. Hughes. "Resolved, That we hereby direct the National Executive Committee to cooperate with Mr. Hughes and take any steps that they deem proper effectively to prosecute the campaign.

"Resolved, That we leave to the State Committees the determination of action in their respective states and recommend that whatever action they take be taken after conference with the National Executive Committee.

Resolutions were adopted by the committee reviewing the purposes of the Progressive party when formed and declaring that the European war had changed the situation until it was desirable for the party to join, for one with one of the leading candidates and assure his election. After picking Hughes as the man to support, the resolution said that the Progressives did not ask for political preference, as such, but that individuals who were not bound by the action of the committee.

After thus indorsing the candidacy of Mr. Hughes, the committee unanimously decided that the action should not be binding on any individual.

Chairman Perkins announced that he would call a meeting of the Executive Committee in New York within 10 days to confer with Mr. Hughes and Republican managers to co-operate with him in the national campaign.

CIVIL TRIAL FOR AMERICAN

DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 27.—Following receipt of an order from Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican Minister of War, that Norton Hand, American mining man held on a homicide charge in Arispe, Sonora, should not be executed, Gen. Calles announced last night that Hand would be taken to Nacozari, 15 miles south of the border, for trial before the civil judge.

Gen. Calles said he was granting the change of venue in order that Hand might have a better opportunity of establishing his innocence if, as he claims, he had no part in the shooting in which James Parks, an American, A. R. Dickson a British subject, and one Mexican cowboy lost their lives.

W. R. WILLCOX IS NAMED TO HANDLE HUGHES CAMPAIGN

Former Postmaster of New York Appointed Chairman of National Committee.

NEW YORK, June 27.—William R. Willcox, former Postmaster of New York and later Public Service Commissioner, was today selected chairman of the Republican National Committee. The choice of the national spirit, for an invitation to dine with Hughes at the Republican presidential nominee's hotel here at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Only the candidate and the Colonel, it was stated, will be present at this dinner, which will be held in Mr. Hughes' apartment.

Hughes' Letter Thanking Roosevelt. The letter follows which Charles E. Hughes wrote to Col. Roosevelt and which he made public in connection with his telegram to the secretary of the Progressive National Committee yesterday.

"I warmly appreciate the cordial letter of indorsement which you have sent to the Progressive Committee. No one is more sensible than I of the lasting indebtedness of the nation to you for the quickness with which you recognized its need for an out-and-out 100-percent Americanism, and for the insistence upon the immediate necessity of a thorough-going preparedness, spiritual, military and economic.

"I am in this campaign because of my conviction that we must not only frame but execute a broad, constructive program and that for this purpose we must have a united party, a party inspired by its great traditions and recognized as its loftiest ideals. I know that you have been guided in this emergency by the sole desire to be of the largest service to the United States. You have sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat. And I want you to feel that I wish to have all the aid that you are able and willing to give. I want the most effective co-operation with all those who have been fighting by your side. Let us work together for our national security and for the peace of righteousness and justice.

"I enclose a copy of my telegram to the committee, in which I have set forth my attitude. I shall later undertake a full discussion of the issues of the campaign.

Hoping that I may have the pleasure of seeing you at an early day, I am, my dear Col. Roosevelt, with cordial regards, faithfully yours,

"CHARLES E. HUGHES."

GOV. JOHNSON TO SUPPORT HUGHES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 27.—Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, one of the leaders of the Progressive party, today announced that he would support Charles E. Hughes "because I believe his record warrants it."

MAN, 42, ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF DEAF MUTE GIRL OF NINE

Margaret Thompson, 9 years old, a deaf mute whose mother conducts a stand at Union Market, last night caused the arrest of John Bucher, 42 years old, a fireman on the steamer Kapskora. Later the child was removed to the Mullany Hospital.

She told the police in sign language that Bucher induced her to go on an excursion yesterday afternoon and that he attacked her in one of the staterooms. Bucher denied the charge. Physicians said they found evidence substantiating her statement.

NAVY ENLISTMENTS BRISK

Thirty-two out of 40 who applied last week in St. Louis for enlistment in the navy, were accepted by Lieut. Olson, in charge of the local recruiting station. Under normal conditions the applications for enlistment average from 15 to 18 a week.

About 20 men wanted to enlist for war service alone. As Lieut. Olson had no authority to enlist men under such provision they were not accepted.

IF YOU WORRY, READ THIS

Worry never brought any good to anybody. But, you say, "I don't worry because I want to, I worry because I can't help it." Or, "I worry because I have so much to worry about."

We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being able to profit by it.

The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he cannot do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, must be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diagnosis of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia."

So many people have read it and written back, "This hits my case exactly. I am giving the treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has had a lot of these books printed and will send you a copy free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a non-alcoholic tonic, particularly suited for nervous neurasthenic people. Your druggist sell them or they will be mailed postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50. ADV.

CALLS "LIBERTY" PAGEANT COSTUME FLAG DESECRATION

D. A. R. Women Object to Dress of Mrs. L. B. Clark for Fourth Celebration.

The costume in which Mrs. L. B. Clark of 4420 Evans avenue plans to represent the "Goddess of Liberty" in the patriotic pageant on the Fourth of July constitutes an unnecessary desecration of the American flag. This statement was made today to a Post-Dispatch reporter by Mrs. Robert M. Funkhouser of 4354 Olive street, chairman of the St. Louis D. A. R. Committee on the Prevention of Desecration of the Flag.

Mrs. Funkhouser has started to try to convince the Nation's Birthday Association, of which Probate Judge Holtcamp is president, that Mrs. Clark should not be permitted to wear the costume in which she recently posed for photographs as the "Goddess of Liberty," and in which she intended to appear in the pageant and also read the Declaration of Independence in Forest Park before the thousands who will participate there in the safe and sane Fourth celebration.

Mrs. Clark's costume consists of a silk American flag draped around her shoulders so as to form a dress. The field of blue and the stars form the front of a waist, and the stripes trail the ground.

It has been announced by the Nation's Birthday Association, in charge of the Fourth celebration, that 48 young women, also draped in the national colors and each representing a state in the Union, would be grouped around the "Goddess of Liberty" and would sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

This feature of the Fourth celebration also meets objection from the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. George M. McFarlane of 6173 Birch avenue, national chairman of the D. A. R. Committee on Prevention of Desecration of the Flag, who is now in Mexico, Mo., wrote Mrs. Funkhouser that the Nation's Birthday Association should be informed that its costume plans constitute a gross violation of the code of flag ethics. She wrote:

"Find Mrs. Clark and ask her not to dress in a flag and thus desecrate it by such a familiar, degrading and contaminating use as making a dress of it and trailing it on the ground, or trying to glorify it with a great speech about its honor and worth."

Tell her she can represent Columbia or the Goddess of Liberty without degrading the flag. She could wear a white dress with a broad band of red from the right shoulder to the bottom of her dress, and a broad band of blue from her left shoulder to the bottom of the dress; and she could wear a crown of stars.

Mrs. Funkhouser said the wearing of a flag for a costume would set a bad example to children of foreigners, who have been formed by the D. A. R. into a league called "Children of the Republic" to train them as true citizens of the American republic. Thousands of these children, she said, undoubtedly would attend the celebration in Forest Park.

"We are merely trying to educate the public in the proper use of the flag," Mrs. Funkhouser said.

Theater Party Also for Visiting Team and Truck Owners.

The car of forces, and proper advertising methods, were discussed at today's session of the fourteenth annual convention of the National Team and Motor Truck Owners' Association, which opened yesterday at the Planters hotel for a three-days' meeting.

The effect of the employers' liability legislation on teaming was discussed, and papers read on the position of the team owner in industry. The delegates were to take a sight-seeing automobile trip during the afternoon, and a party at Forest Park Highlands in the evening. The convention will close with a banquet tomorrow night.

ITALIANS RETAKE TWO MORE TOWNS, AUSTRIANS PUSHED BACK FURTHER

Arsiero and Posino Captured—Russians Threaten Kolomea—British Artillery Fire Near Somme Is More Intense.

ROME, June 27.—Following up their recent successes on the Trentino front, the Italians have driven back the Austrians still further, the War Office announced today. The Italians have recaptured Posina and Arsiero, in Italy, about seven miles from the Austrian border.

The War Office also announced the capture of Mounts Flara, Taverla, Spitz, Kesserie and Cima Della Saetta and the crests on the Caldera and Campanella.

PETROGRAD, June 27.—With the elimination of Gen. Pflanzner's army in Bukovina, the attention of Gen. Brusiloff's forces in this section now is directed upon Kolomea, the key to the defense of Lemberg on the south. The occupation of Kimpolung and Kutly has opened the way to Kolomea, and already a result of this last recorded victory of the Russians is becoming evident in the forward movement of Gen. Letchitsky on the road from Slnatn to Kolomea to a point 10 miles from the latter town.

It is evident from the report of prisoners and booty taken that the Austrians, defended Kimpolung with considerable forces. They were attacked by Russian troops, which had covered the 30 miles from Gurahamora in two days and were rushed into the fight with scarcely an hour's rest. According to Russian military authorities their assault added the last touch needed to complete the demoralization of Gen. Pflanzner's forces, which now are entirely cut off from communication with Gen. Count von Bothmer's army group on the Strpa river to the north.

Gen. von Bothmer's position is regarded as precarious as a result of this operation, and military critics believe he will without doubt be forced to fall back along his whole line before Tarnopol.

The Teutonic forces appear to have been able to stop to some extent the breaching of their front in the Kovel region.

The official statement of yesterday said: "In the region east of Horodyschno, north of Baranovich, after a violent bombardment of our trenches near the Serebort farm, on Sunday night, the enemy took the offensive, but was repulsed.

"On the reaches of the Dniester, south of Buczacz our cosacks, having crossed the river fighting and overthrowing elements of the enemy's advance guards, occupied the villages of Sleskerghine and Petruva, capturing five officers and 350 men.

"Russian cavalry, after a fight, occupied the enemy's position near Pasorit, six miles west of Kimpolung (Bukovina). "We also are making progress southward, approaching passes leading to Transylvania."

"We are merely trying to educate the public in the proper use of the flag," Mrs. Funkhouser said.

FRENCH RETAKE TRENCH SECTION

PARIS, June 27.—The French have recaptured another section of the trenches at Thiaumont in the Verdun sector, according to an official statement issued by the War Office today. The struggle for the possession of the village of Fleury is still progressing.

GERMANS TAKE SLAV POSITION

BERLIN, via London, June 27.—Russian position southwest of Sokul, in Volynia, has been stormed by Gen. von Linling's troops and held against counter-attacks, according to an announcement.

RADICALS SEIZE SOCIALIST PARTY CONTROL IN BERLIN

Moderates Ousted From Executive Committee, Supplanted by Opponents of Government.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND. A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World. Copyright, 1916, by Post-Dispatch Co.

BERLIN, June 27.—The storm clouds overhanging the German Socialist party ever since the split in the Reichstag broke anew at a general meeting of the Union of Election Organizations for greater Berlin. The radicals unseated and threw out the Executive Committee, composed of followers of the moderate wing, and elected an Executive Committee of radicals.

Rosa Luxemburg, known as "Red Rosa," who was sent to prison for a year early in the war, was placed upon the Executive Committee. The meeting was extremely stormy. Radicals of the Ost, Ledebour, Haase and Luxemburg, type are now in control of the election and party machinery for greater Berlin.

Delegate Heyl charged that the leaders of the party had betrayed the party to the Prussian Government and declared that it was only the moderate Socialist party in the Reichstag which was holding Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg in office.

Eugene Ernst in reply declared the blatant noise of the opposition, who had never done more than open their mouths, had accomplished nothing. He asked if it were not a fact that the radical leaders had in their own circles been unable to prevent Socialist boys from entering the governmentally encouraged "boy scout" or "youth defense" organization.

Ernst declared the chauvinistic waves had swept far and wide in the radicals' own circle of working men. As the delegates yelled him down Ernst, who is one of the Berlin leaders of the moderates, shouted: "One may respect a man who, like Liebnicht, sacrifices himself to his convictions, but it was you who abandoned him. You altered him to be arrested, then you fled. That's your kind of revolution."

Mme. Luxemburg in a fiery address charged the leaders with having turned the Social Democratic party in Germany into a Government party and demanded that no further party contributions be paid the present National Executive Committee. A resolution of sympathy was adopted after the new local Executive Committee was elected.

It developed from reports that there has been a heavy drop off both in membership and contributions.

Two Men Fighting Arrested.
Arthur La Pierre, a salesman, 28 years old, of 2645 January avenue, was fighting with his employer, Sam De Luca, 34 years old, a wholesale liquor dealer at 1019 North Seventh street, in front of the liquor store last evening, when policemen arrested both. La Pierre had a scalp wound. De Luca alleged that La Pierre had collected $459.59 which he had failed to turn in. La Pierre denied the charge.

VOTERS' LEAGUE SECRET OFFICE IN BENOIST BUILDING

Callers There Subjected to "Keyhole Examination" Before Being Admitted.

PRINTING SHOP NEARBY

Charles T. Burgess, Owner, Denies Any Connection With Organization.

Investigation by a Post-Dispatch reporter today disclosed the secret headquarters of the Independent Voters' League, a political organization, which works in the dark and was formed for the purpose of trying to defeat at elections all candidates who profess faith in the Catholic religion.

The headquarters are in an office on the third floor of the Benoit Building, Ninth and Pine streets, which is numberless, and has no lettering either on the door of the office or on the glass partition separating it from the corridor.

Persons calling at the office are admitted only after first giving secret rapings on the glass panel and after being thoroughly inspected by those within through a crack caused by the preliminary opening of the door but an inch or two.

An air of secrecy and mystery hangs over the place and this has aroused the curiosity of other tenants in the building. The office is occupied by a man about 55 or 60 years old and a young, handsome, black-eyed girl stenographer.

Printing Office Nearby.
The office is within a few feet of that of Charles T. Burgess, head of the Burgess Printing Co., in room 302, who was one of those who attended the secret meeting of the league Sunday night in Entertainment Hall in the Odson, which was exposed in yesterday's Post-Dispatch.

On entering Burgess' office the reporter recognized Burgess as one of the men whom he had seen at the secret meeting Sunday and was in turn recognized by Burgess. Burgess was confused when confronted and questioned about his connection with the league.

Burgess is a short, stout man about 40 years old. He is about five feet and six inches tall and weighs about 180 pounds. He has a large, pleasant face, smooth shaven, of which the most noticeable feature is his sparkling blue eyes. He is a blond and was dressed in a light suit.

Folding his arms and leaning back against his desk, while the reporter propounded several questions, Burgess showed a sickly grin.

"I could ask you a lot of questions," he said to the reporter, "and if you didn't want to answer them you wouldn't. That's my position exactly. I have nothing to say."

"You were at that meeting Sunday were you not," he was asked.

"I was," he replied. "Just as lots of others were, by invitation. That meeting was open and anyone could attend that wanted to."

"Do you remember who invited you?" he was asked.

"No, I don't," was the answer. "I am not a member of the league and don't know anything about it. I never met Mr. Bibb, the lecturer, and had never seen him until he got on the platform to speak at that meeting."

This last statement made in answer to a question as to whether he had not known Bibb for some time and had not been one of several who entertained him while he was in St. Louis for the meeting.

At this point in the conversation between Burgess and the reporter, the stenographer from the secret office of the league came into the printing shop and announced that "Mr. Harding was awaiting" in the other office.

Greene P. Harding, referred to by the stenographer, formerly was employed by the City Plan Commission and it was revealed about a year ago that he is one of the staunch members of the secret Voters' League. He has been active as one of the heads of the organization in St. Louis.

Tenants in the Benoit Building who have been watching the secret office of the league because of the mystery surrounding it have seen large quantities of mail taken out of and brought into the place daily. Burgess this morning emerged from the office with a basketful of letters, which he carried into his printing shop. The Voters' League has all its mail sent to P. O. Box 535 at the Postoffice.

The regular porter of the building is not permitted by the occupants to enter the room to sweep and clean it, the tenants have noted, while none are permitted to enter without first being subjected to a minute "keyhole examination."

Five Republican politicians, two of them candidates for office were kept busy today, in explaining their reported presence at the secret meeting of the Voters' League in Entertainment Hall, Odson Building, Sunday night. The only speech made at the Odson meeting was an attack upon the Catholic Church, and upon the Democratic party as being "dominated by the Catholic Church."

A full report of the meeting, with the names of the politicians attending, was printed in yesterday's Post-Dispatch. The story was written by a Post-Dispatch reporter, who, for the first time since the mysterious organization has been in operation in St. Louis, got into the meeting.

Charles E. Mohrstadt, city marshal and candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, said today, in regard to his presence at the meeting, that he went without knowing the purpose of the gathering, and supposing it to be a "good Government" meeting. He said a card of admission was sent him, and that he had to wake up one of the doorknobs to present it.

The Post-Dispatch reporter, who was in a position in the hall where he could see everyone who entered, saw Mohrstadt enter the meeting about 8:30, after the speaker, C. W. Bibb of Minneapolis had begun his speech urging the political proscription of Catholics. Mohrstadt walked past the doorknob without displaying a card for inspection. He took a seat at the rear of the hall, and a few minutes later, when a man on the west side of the hall beckoned to him, he moved over and sat beside the man. He sat there for some time, during Bibb's tirade, until he happened to turn around and saw the reporter, whom he recognized. He left the hall soon afterward.

Oscar P. Mohrstadt, Chief Deputy Marshal, entered the hall before the arrival of his brother. He was alone, and was

Today's Beauty Talk
You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox, and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes the dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly, with a stiffness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—ADV.

A New, Harmless Way to Banish Hairy Growth
(Beauty Topic)
By following this suggestion any woman can, in the privacy of her own home, remove every trace of hair or fuzz from her face. With powdered canthrox and water mix enough paste to cover the unwanted hairs; apply with a brush; rub off and wash the skin. This method is unfailing, harmless and quick in results, but care should be employed to get the genuine canthrox.—ADV.

FRENCH AVIATORS KILL 75 CHILDREN AT KARLSRUHE

Total of 110 Deaths—147 Including 79 Children Wounded in Retaliatory Air Raid.

BERLIN, via London, June 27.—A report on the aeroplane raid on Karlsruhe June 22 shows that 110 persons, including five women and 75 children, were killed and 147 persons injured, including 29 women and 79 children.

Because it was the feast of Corpus Christi the crowds in the streets were greater than usual, especially in the direction of the recreation ground. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon news was received of the approach of an enemy air squadron. A thick mist rendered observation difficult.

Suddenly at 3:30 two explosions occurred in the western part of the town, and soon afterward enemy airmen were seen through powerful glasses flying very high. They hovered over the town for 15 minutes and dropped 20 bombs; then withdrew to the south-west.

The material damage was unimportant. Additional deaths are expected because many persons suffered severe injuries.

The French official communication issued on the night of June 22 said that in reprisal for successive bombardments, carried out by the Germans on the open towns of Bar-Le-Duc and Lunéville, French aerial squadrons had bombed Treves and Karlsruhe. A flotilla of nine aeroplanes had dropped 40 shells on Karlsruhe, the statement said.

Like a Boy at 50 Bubbling Over With Vitality—Taking Iron Did It

Doctor says Nuxated Iron is greatest of all strength builders—often increases the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous folks 200 per cent, in two weeks' time.

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact, a young man he really was, notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—Nuxated Iron had filled him with renewed life. At 20 he was in bad health; at 40 a careworn and nearly all in. Now at 50 a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth. As I have said a hundred times over, iron is the greatest of all strength-builders. If people would only throw away patent medicines and nauseous concoctions and take simple Nuxated Iron, I am convinced that the lives of thousands of persons might be saved who now "every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney liver and heart trouble, etc. The real and true cause which started their disease was that they were more or less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without iron, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence, you become weak, pale and sickly looking. Just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well, you are not yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who

Orpet Tells of Lambert Girl's Death in the Woods

with her, were you not?" "Not then, that came later, judging from my letters." "You can't remember, independently of the letters, how your love developed?" "No, sir." "Early in your correspondence, after returning to the university, you did tell her that you loved her, didn't you?" "Yes, sir." "For a half hour questions and answers were of a nature that women hung heads and men were plainly uncomfortable, but Mr. Joselyn's insistent voice went on relentlessly. The young witness faced by his father and mother turned his head as he replied. There was a sigh of relief as "exhibit one," a letter from Orpet to Marion, was called to the witness' attention. "The letter," Joselyn asked about Orpet's return from the university in June a year ago and his call on Marion. "Her parents were there always, but sometimes I stayed after they had gone to bed," said Orpet. "Nothing occurred at this time which the parents might not have seen," asked Attorney Joselyn. "No, sir."

Questioned About Chemistry. Orpet obtained work in Chicago during vacation and saw little of Marion. He returned to Lake Forest, his home, at the end of August for a few days' rest before returning to the University of Wisconsin. Chemistry was among his studies.

"I had only one year of it," he explained. "And you knew pretty much about potassium cyanide?" "If I ever studied about cyanide I have forgotten it," answered the witness.

"Were you not considered quite an expert?" "No, sir." "Not by Celeste Youker?" "No, sir." Miss Youker, it appeared, was an excellent student of chemistry, but when Orpet was called upon to discuss the subject with her, he had to refer to his textbook on the subject, he said. At Madison the witnesses said he had roomed with William Zick, a student who added to his income by clerking in Tiedemann's drug store. Another friend was Otto Peterson, Charles Hasinger, who was taking the pharmacy course and was employed at the drug store, was another friend.

Joselyn questioned Orpet very closely as to the contents of the room he occupied at Madison, making Orpet tell every article in the room, even to his toothbrush. Orpet told yesterday on direct examination of his meeting with her on Feb. 9, and of her death. He did not see her take poison, nor have it about her, he testified, but he saw her dying convulsions. He supported the theory that the cyanide of potassium which caused death was taken in powdered form, and not in solution, as insinuated by expert toxicologists called by the prosecution.

"I noticed a white powder on her face and on her hand," he said. The "medicine" which he gave her to relieve a supposed delicate condition, he said, was simply molasses and water. He said that he knew she could not be in trouble and adopted this subterfuge to relieve her mind, as she kept insisting in letters that she was alarmed at her condition. Orpet gave an innocent interpretation of the alibi letters which he addressed to his mother and to Marion. He left Madison Feb. 8. In the hands of a friend he left the two missives, post dated Feb. 9, to be mailed on the latter date.

He explained that his own parents would have objected to his making the trip, and that Marion's objection to him, in case he should be seen and stories carried to either household he assumed that the letters would be taken as proof-positive to the contrary. After leaving the woods where Marion's body was found he said he threw away the bottle of diluted molasses. The bottle was recovered nine days later by persons sent out by attorneys whom Orpet had by that time retained.

Orpet First Witness. Orpet was the first witness for the defense. His face lighted as he heard his name called and, with an encouraging look from Mrs. Orpet, he went forward and was sworn. His voice was plainly audible at first, but soon developed periods of weakness. He recollected very little save the purport of his conversation with Marion.

As has been conjectured, Orpet spent the night of Feb. 8-9 in the garage of the McCormick estate, of which his father is superintendent. He went to Helen's Woods after walking around for an hour or more, because he did not wish to be seen. He had arranged the night before to meet Marion on her way to school.

Orpet's testimony was interrupted to allow K. B. Hawkins to testify as to the finding of the bottle, as he is a member of the national guard and under orders to proceed at once to the mobilization camp at Springfield. He appeared in uniform and testified in great detail as to the finding of the bottle on Feb. 18.

When Orpet resumed he said that his first interview with his attorneys was so brief and he was so dazed and nervous over his affairs that he forgot to tell about it. When the State's Attorney, Ralph J. Dady, began questioning him about buying a two-ounce bottle, he said, and put such a tragic aspect on it as being the last link in a chain of convincing circumstances, he determined to say nothing of the bottle which he actually did purchase of Charles Hasinger, a drug clerk at Madison.

Orpet slept well in the garage and left at 4:45 in the morning. He walked around on obscure roads in the woods. Josephine Davis had spent the night with Marion and he had expected them to catch the 8:30 interurban train to school.

Mid in Woods. "Why did you go into the woods?" he was asked. "There was quite a little traffic and

THIS WOMAN SAYS $500 IS NOTHING

"I'm gaining weight every day since I began taking Tanlac," Mrs. John G. Toelke, wife of a street car conductor of the Hodiament line, of 1127 Barmer avenue, said recently. "In the last three weeks I've taken seven pounds," she added. "I suffered from stomach trouble," Mrs. Toelke continued. "Indigestion caused me to suffer severe pains in my stomach constantly. Gas would form in my stomach. I'd have shooting pains around my heart. My liver was in very bad shape. I always felt tired, no matter how much I tried to rest. I couldn't sleep. In fact, I was just 'all in.' My appetite was very poor. I was very nervous. I wouldn't take $500 for the good I have derived from Tanlac. I feel better in every way. My appetite is improved and I can eat anything I want without suffering pains after food. The indigestion has left me. I do not have gas in my stomach now and the sour condition of my stomach has left. I awaken in the mornings feeling refreshed and strong. Because of all this good Tanlac has done for me, I recommend it."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like. Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in St. Louis at the Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., the seven Johnson-Enderle-Pauley Drug stores, and Winkelman's four South Side stores.—ADV.

Orpet Resumes Story of Death of Lambert Girl

"I didn't care to be recognized."
"What is there at the Sacred Heart station?"

"Two platforms and one enclosed place."

"Go ahead."

"I went back and forth from Sacred Heart to the edge of the woods, just inside, to a place that has since been called the 'big tree'—there is quite a large oak there—at least twice—I can remember doing it twice. Finally the two girls came and Josephine took the car. I then came out of her tree on the station and met Marion on the platform—she said 'Hello'—and I said 'Hello.' I asked her if she would go inside the station. She said, let's go out this way, pointing across the road in the direction from which I had come, and we did—we went into the woods toward the log across the ravine.

"I cannot remember what she said exactly, or what I said exactly, except a few stray phrases. The substance of it from the time we entered the woods, after the time we left the log and moved along, was that she was in trouble and that I must stay with her to get her out of it. Finally I got up and moved along—she was sitting on the log and got up to cross the ravine on it. I did not care to go that way and moved westward until it was shallowed. I turned and told her to be sure not to fall, and I remember of her stopping half way across and she said, 'You wouldn't care anyway, would you?' and turned back and went the other way. She joined me on the other side."

"When she said she was in trouble," continued Orpet, "I repeated my previous statement that she was not and never had been—that is all I remember at that particular time. We walked from that log out to Sheridan road. I remember asking her if it wasn't pretty near time for her to take a car. She said that did not bother her any."

"She put emphasis on the word 'that,' which I didn't get at the time, so I did not say anything to her."

Girl Slipped and Fell.

"We walked some distance south and finally turned back in again west toward the car tracks. A few feet after that, as I remember it, there is a slight knoll, or rise in the ground, perhaps 25 feet across. It is flat on top, but at the base there are some golden red and perhaps limbs of trees, that is my recollection of it. I went on one side and she the other. I was on the south side and she was on the north side. Just before I reached her, perhaps when about half around, she slipped and fell and she made no effort to get up."

"I got to her in time to help her get up, but my recollection is that she did not use either of her arms in helping herself up. I think one hand was up in front of her coat and the inference I have drawn since."

"I object to the inference," shouted Attorney Joslyn of the prosecution. "Her arm," continued the witness, "was across the breast of her coat. That was all there was to that. We walked on a few feet further, just before that a big truck had gone north and I turned and watched it. Shortly after that I took out the bottle of molasses and water that I had in my pocket and offered it to her. She refused to take hold of it. She said 'That won't do me any good.' I didn't have anything to say and put the bottle back in my pocket and walked along."

"Previous to this time, and after it also, she said more about being in trouble, and I said something about her not being in trouble. I don't remember much more of any of it until we got to the place that has since been called 'The Three Trees.' I told her then it was time for me to be going back to Madison and told her I would go out ahead of her. Just before I left her she asked if I was going to stick with her. There was much of that that morning and it was repeated this last time. I said no, that I was going back to Madison, that was all, and I turned and walked off west to the tracks. When I got some short distance off she called me back. She said, 'Oh, Bill, come back here,' or words to that effect. I came back and asked her what she wanted."

Powder on Face.

"I think her expression was 'Are you going to write to me any more?' and I said 'no, that I didn't think I would; that there was no need to,' and I turned and walked away. I don't know what made me turn around, but I did and she was lying on the snow. I can remember going back to her and I can remember her having a convulsion before I got to her. She was lying on the snow on her left side. When I got to her she was having another convulsion and I knelt down beside her. Her hand was over the top of her face, or near her face or chin, and I pulled it away down toward her coat. I saw powder on her face and in the palm of her hand. Her hand was half closed and in the two lines formed by closing the hand there was powder."

"She had two convulsions, while I was there. I remember my expression then was, 'Marion, what have you done?' There was dying, and very shortly after she was dead. After the last convulsion, there was either a slight stiffening or laxness. There was some movement anyway. After that, she was still. Steam was arising from her face, a great cloud of it. Her eyes were half shut and in what I would call a glass. I have never seen any but I should think that term would apply."

"I stood up after a short time, and I can remember the sensation that came over me. It was just like a fog setting down over your brain. I don't know what I did after that, except that I went off to the southeast toward Fort Sheridan. That is all I can tell."

In his subsequent testimony Orpet said he went to Chicago and caught a train for Madison, where he arrived at 6 p. m.

MISS MULVIHILL TO BE BRIDE OF A CHICAGO MAN

She Will Announce Engagement Tomorrow to Harry D. Gibbons.

Miss Veronica Mulvihill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Mulvihill of 5087 Washington avenue tomorrow will formally announce her engagement to marry Harry D. Gibbons of Chicago.

Miss Mulvihill had been popular in social circles and has won distinction for her proficiency as a swimmer and dancer.

Gibbons is a Chicago attorney, 27 years old. He is the son of Judge Walter Gibbons of Chicago, who died recently.

Miss Mulvihill and Gibbons first met four years ago at Glenwood Springs, Col., when she was touring the West with her parents.

They renewed their acquaintance a year later when Miss Mulvihill went to Europe with her father and found Gibbons was a fellow passenger on the steamship.

Miss Mulvihill, with Gibbons for a partner, won a loving cup for being the best dancer at the Lincoln's birthday ball at the South Shore Country Club in Chicago last year, when she was visiting relatives there.

Gibbons had made frequent visits to St. Louis in the last year. He was here with members of his family last week. The formal announcement will be given at a breakfast party on the lawn of Miss Mulvihill's home at noon tomorrow. The guests will be 16 of her girl friends.

SOCIETY

MR. MAYBELLE HYMAN TEAS-DALE and Alfred Videre Fynn of London, England, were married at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Hyman, 654 Calumet avenue. The Rev. B. A. Abbott of the Union Avenue Christian Church performed the ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate family only, and there were no attendants. The bride wore a traveling suit of biscuit colored cloth and hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of orchids. After a wedding breakfast the couple departed for Canada and California, whence they will embark for the Hawaiian Islands. They will be away several months, and upon their return to the United States will reside in St. Louis.

Miss Mary Rose Burleigh entertained at luncheon at her home, 4323 Delmar boulevard, today, for Miss Mildred Clark of Pittsburg, who is visiting Miss Lucille Idler of 4615 Berlin avenue. There were eight guests. Miss Clark has been much entertained during her St. Louis stay, and several other affairs are planned for the remaining few days of her visit, including a bridge party tomorrow to be given by Miss Esther Wheeler of 619 Kingsbury boulevard. Miss Clark will depart for her home Saturday.

The Century Boat Club will give a porch dinner Saturday evening to open the new veranda recently completed.

An interesting wedding of the week will be that of Miss Mary Frances Moore and F. Edward O'Neill, which will take place in All Saints' Chapel of the New Cathedral Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father William Robinson, S. J., will officiate, and the only attendants will be the bride's sister and brother, Miss Joseph M. Moore and Andrew Moore. Following the ceremony Mr. O'Neill will take his bride to Havana, Cuba, where they will reside.

Miss Moore is the daughter of Mrs. L. J. Moore of 4260 Lindell boulevard. Mr. O'Neill is the son of the late Frank R. O'Neill and Mrs. O'Neill of 3849 Cleveland avenue.

Mrs. J. David Barth, who has been visiting relatives in Sherman, Tex., for the last two months, returned home Monday, and is at the Hamilton Hotel.

Miss Zola Brashear of 5734 Vernon avenue has returned home after an extended stay with friends in Galveston, Tex.

Mrs. Nelson Sharp of Philadelphia, who has been visiting Mrs. Frederick C. Lake Jr., of 4560 Westminster place for the last month, departed last night for her home. She was accompanied by Miss Elmyr Cale, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George W. Cale, Jr., who after a short stay with Mrs. Sharp will go to New York to visit Mrs. Miles Standish Slocum.

Mrs. Edward N. Beach of 4618 Westminster place departed Monday for a short visit with friends in Chicago.

GOING AWAY? This is to remind you that before you start you should order the POST-DISPATCH. Have it mailed daily and Sunday and change the address whenever necessary. Price 45 cents a month, including postage.

Electrical Engineers Convene. CLEVELAND, O., June 27.—Electrical engineers are here from all over the country to attend the thirty-third annual convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, which opens here today and will continue through the week.

Politicians Tell of Interest in Voters' League

not required to show a card at the door. He sat nearer the platform than his brother.

Erwin G. Owing, assistant City Counselor and candidate for the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge, entered the hall shortly after Oscar P. Mohrstadt. Before coming into the hall, he stood at the door and inspected the crowd within. He was alone and did not show a card.

Alderman John A. Pett came into the hall early. He was alone, and was joined by a friend shortly after he entered. The two took seats at the extreme rear of the hall. George Brand, Probate Clerk, and his wife entered the hall together and took seats near the platform. Brand did not display a card.

Archbishop Glennon said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today that he had read the story of the Independent Voters' League meeting in Monday's Post-Dispatch. He said he did not care to comment on it in detail, but he mentioned, with apparent amusement, the fact that the speaker had alluded to him as "the political boss of St. Louis."

"That was news to me," said the archbishop. Alluding to the general spirit and purpose of the meeting, he added: "These things will be swallowed up in the war that, in all probability, will come to the south of us. That will be a test of Americanism. I wonder how many of those people will come forward to serve their country then."

Explanation of Mohrstadt. When a reporter called this morning at the office of Marshal Mohrstadt to get a statement from him concerning his presence at the meeting Sunday night he recognized two men in the office of the Marshal as men he had also seen at the meeting. These men are Adolph Hartman and C. J. Stoppelworth, deputies under Mohrstadt.

Stoppelworth is the man who met the Marshal after the latter came into the hall and with whom Mohrstadt sat during the meeting. Stoppelworth had, prior to the arrival of Mohrstadt, hailed Oscar Mohrstadt and Hartmann, but neither heeded his signal.

Explanations by Politicians. Marshal Mohrstadt said he went to the meeting as he would to any meeting where there might be a chance to "make votes" and that he did not know what its purpose was. He said he was not a member of the league and had never been asked to contribute to it. George Brand also said he was not a member or a contributor, that he went by chance, not knowing what the meeting was about, and that he and his wife did not remain long. Assistant City Counselor Owing said he was not a member and knew nothing about the league, but that someone telephoned to his home, in his absence, asking him to attend a political meeting. He said he did not believe in the principles or methods of the league.

Wrecked the A. P. A. In the course of Bibb's address at Sunday night's meeting he said he "wished he could recall Father Phelan from purgatory to ask about some matters pertaining to the Church."

The reference was to the Rev. Father D. S. Phelan who died several months ago and who for many years was editor of The Western Watchman, a powerful widely circulated Catholic weekly newspaper.

It was Father Phelan who, single-handed and with no weapon but his newspaper, put the American Protective Association, better known as the A. P. A., out of business in St. Louis about 20 years ago. By a master stroke of journalism he obtained and published the names of all the A. P. A. members in St. Louis. This was a difficult task as the organization was secret and worked in the dark, as the Independent Voters' League has been doing.

There were "chapters" of the A. P. A. in different parts of the city. When Father Phelan had obtained the names of officers and members he printed them in installments in the Western Watchman.

The exposure created a panic among Republican politicians and office holders, many of whom were members of the organization. Hundreds of business men, whose names appeared in the published lists, also felt the effect of the exposure. The editor did not publish the list until the complete roster of names had been published and the A. P. A. soon was a thing of the past in St. Louis.

Plan Your Own City. With each village composed of 50 different buildings, houses, clubhouses, stores, fire station, church, school, etc., comes a beautifully printed ground plan 17½x24 inches in size, showing streets, walks, flower beds, trees with numbered spaces, giving location of each building. Fifty buildings in set. One wrapped free every day with each lot of McKinney's Butter-Nut Bread.

"CHICKEN JOE" GETS REPRIEVE Time Granted Slaver of Warden's Wife to Appeal. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 27.—Gov. Dunne today granted a reprieve to "Chicken Joe" Campbell, sentenced to be hanged Friday for the murder of Mrs. Edmund M. Allen, wife of the former Warden of Joliet penitentiary.

The reprieve grants him a stay until Oct. 13, to permit an appeal to the Supreme Court.

You're missing lots of fun if you don't buy McKinney's Butter-Nut Bread. Each day we wrap a different building of the Model City—50 different buildings in set. Start today. Ask your grocer.

Sunday Ice Selling Favored. Members of the Board of Aldermen are opposed to prohibiting the peddling of ice on Sunday, and probably will refuse to pass a bill against the practice. Many small dealers appeared before the Legislation Committee of the board last night to protest against the passage of a bill penalizing the sale of ice on Sunday.

SHACKLETON TELLS OF HIS FAILURE TO RESCUE COMRADES

Ice Impenetrable Around Elephant Island, Where Men Are Sheltered in Cave.

SUPPLIES LEFT FOR THEM

Antarctic Explorer Says Wooden Steam Vessel or Ice Breaker Will Be Necessary.

By Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton.

(Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)
PORT STANLEY, Falkland Islands, June 25, via London, June 27.—I have returned here from the attempt to reach Elephant Island in the vessel kindly lent by the Uruguayan Government.

I greatly regret having to report that we were unable to effect the rescue of my comrades left in the ice hole there.

The ice conditions are much heavier than on the previous attempt. I made in May in an 80-ton South Georgian whaler, with Capt. Thom in command, after I had reached there from Elephant Island.

We encountered a stream of ice 20 miles north of Elephant Island. We passed through this successfully and reached within 20 miles of the island, but owing to the heavy, impenetrable pack, interspersed with numerous icebergs and a high northwest swell, we found it impossible to proceed. The ice stretched in crescent form from west-northwest through south to northeast, the two horns being 50 miles from the island.

Wooden Steam Vessel Required.
This winter's ice conditions are so bad that ultimate rescue can only be effected with a wooden steam vessel or an ice breaker.

As regards food, there seems to be hope of penguins, as we saw gentoo penguins at the edge of the ice, and these would supplement the food ashore, which mainly consists of bovine ration having high calorific value.

Wild (whom Shackleton left in charge of the men on Elephant Island), seeing the ice conditions, would at an early date drastically economize the stores and would go on half rations, supplemented by penguin.

Seven miles north of the ocean camp we formed when the Endurance foundered we left 12 cases of these sledging rations, but I cannot say if the party can reach them.

Though they will be hard pressed, hope must not be given up of their ultimate rescue.

Saved Most of Expedition.
Sir Ernest Shackleton called to the New York World and Post-Dispatch on May 31 from the Falkland Islands a thrilling report of his having saved the greater number of his men from the Antarctic expedition. His ship, the Endurance, having foundered last November, being crushed by ice in the Weddell Sea and carried by the pack for many months.

After almost incredible efforts two of the three whale boats in which the explorers braved the icy, storm-lashed ocean, reached Elephant Island April 15. There Shackleton left 22 men in charge of Frank Wild, the second in command of the expedition and, with five volunteers, set out for aid. The men stranded on Elephant Island had no shelter except a cave cut out of the ice cliffs, but they had "five weeks' provisions, full rations, exclusive of the possibility of obtaining seals."

In a 22-foot boat covered with sledge runners, box lids and canvas, Sir Ernest set out April 24 in weather "appalling" had, with constant blizzards. May 15 he reached King Haakon Bay, South Georgia. Taking two men, he crossed the island to Stromness, a whaling station.

Finds Ice Too Formidable.
While one whaler was sent for the other three of the rescue party, Shackleton obtained an 80-ton unprotected whaler, in which, with Capt. Thom in command, he started, May 25, for Elephant Island, but "found the ice too formidable for the vessel and we reluctantly decided to turn north for assistance to the Falkland Islands."

Responding to Shackleton's call for help, the Uruguayan Government sent a steam trawler to Port Stanley, in which Sir Ernest started for Elephant Island June 15.

TWO ST. LOUISANS ON OUTING DROWNED IN GASCONADE RIVER

William S. Scott and Elsworth Merkel—Both Employees of Rice-Stitz Dry Goods Company.

William S. Scott, 22 years old, 3320 Forest Park boulevard, and Elsworth Merkel, 18 years old, 1105A Montgomery avenue, employees of the Rice-Stitz Dry Goods Co., were drowned in the Gasconade River, near Hazel-green, 15 miles east of Lebanon, Mo. Sunday night, when their boat was overturned. They had just arrived for a two weeks' outing at the St. Louis club house and put out into river without a guide. Their bodies had not been recovered late last night.

Merkel was a good swimmer, but Scott could not swim. The river was high.

Merkel's father is Henry A. Merkel, an employee of the Landau Cabinet Co. Scott's father is William Scott, a granite contractor. Scott was a buyer in the notions department of the dry goods company. Merkel was a salesman.

$180,000,000 APPROPRIATION BILL FOR ARMY PASSES HOUSE

Increases Are Made in Allowances for National Guard and Machine Gun—Measure Goes to Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The House passed the army appropriation bill yesterday by a unanimous vote after it had increased its total to $180,000,000. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Some of the principal increases made were: For field artillery for national guard, increased from $3-000,000 to $5,000,000, divided equally between manufacture and purchase.

artillery ammunition for national guard, $2,000,000 to $3,000,000; for citizen military training, $500,000 to $2,000,000; horses, $800,000 to $2-800,000; medical and hospital supplies, $1,000,000 to $2,500,000; engineer equipment, $500,000 to $1,000,000;
small arms ammunition reserve,
$2,500,000 to $4,500,000; small arms,
$2,000,000 to $5,000,000; machine guns for the army, $1,400,000 to $3,500,000, and a separate appropriation of $2,000,000 for the national guard;
armored motor cars, $150,000 to $300,000.

34 "OBJECTORS" SENTENCED

Life Term for British Soldiers With Scruples Against War.

LONDON, June 27.—Thirty-four soldiers who are serving unwillingly at the front, having stated they entertained conscientious objections to military service, were sentenced to death recently for refusing to perform certain military duties, but the sentences since have been commuted to penal servitude.

This announcement was made in the House of Commons by Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary Undersecretary for War, who added that the men would be imprisoned in civilian prisons in the United Kingdom.

CINCINNATI AND ST. LOUIS LEAD FOR AD MEN MEETING

Denver, New Orleans and Los Angeles Also Out for 1917
Convention.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Cincinnati and St. Louis the chief contenders for the next convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. Denver is also being pushed and considered. New Orleans and Los Angeles are advancing their claims, also. New Orleans is accused of compromising with St. Louis upon the combination. St. Louis, 1917; New Orleans, 1918.

Cincinnati men declare they have done no electioneering, but look for a victory upon a sheer merit. Cincinnati men today scorned combination, at least in public. They were seen to fraternize with Chicago and other big delegations.
The Mayors of St. Louis, Cincinnati and New Orleans are at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel. St. Louis and Cincinnati Mayors are boosting for the 1917 convention for their respective cities.

The New Orleans Mayor is helping St. Louis.

The claims of St. Louis have been set forth by Mayor Kiel. He has asserted he is unable to see how St.
Louis can lose the fight.

"The Democratic convention," he said, "liked St. Louis and nobody lost out who went there. There is an immense auditorium to take care of these gatherings and there are plenty of opportunities for enjoyment.
As to places of interest we have Washington University and other things."

St. Louis Manager Named.
C. L. Brittain has been elected chairman of the committee that will manage the convention in St. Louis, if it is held there.

Mrs. George M. Burbach, wife of the advertising manager of the Post-Dispatch, has been elected chairman of the Missouri Federation of Women's Ad Clubs.
When St. Louis got on the job with its end of the big show at last night's cabaret in the ballroom of the Bellevue Stratford, the delegates didn't pay much attention to the attention to the stage effect of the acts. They wanted real cabaret entertainment. The strains of a violin echoed from the rear of the room and from one of the tables marched Miss Blanche Freud, a pretty young woman with a delightful tremor on the violin. She played a popular song, and from another part of the room arose Misses Florence Armstrong and Catherine McGarrigan. They edged carefully between the tables, all the while singing songs about St. Louis and Missouri, the members of which "Come to St. Louis in 1917." Here is the chorus of one of them, sung to the tune of "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah":
"Here's a glad hand from St. Louis,
Here's a glad hand from St. Louis,
Here's a glad hand from St. Louis,
For nineteen-seventeen."

Dan McGarrigan and "Joe" Green sang a few "hits." It was a good-natured crowd.

A wave of enthusiasm was aroused when the St. Louis delegates marched down Broad street last night in the great pageant, carrying their tremor down "Old Glory." They proclaimed it the largest flag in the world.
The convention program continued today. The general session of the convention opened at 9 o'clock with an invocation by Bishop Thomas J. Garland.
Addresses were made by Frank Stockdale and Llewellyn E. Pratt, and the different departmental sessions and conferences were held in buildings of the University of Pennsylvania during the day.

Naval Maneuvers Today.
A swimming competition in the university pool; a series of naval maneuvers at the Philadelphia Navy Yard and in the evening a military and naval tournament on Franklin Field are included in the day's entertainment program.

More than 7000 delegates from all sections of this country, Canada, Mexico and Europe marched in the parade last night.

Parade Cost $250,000.
Hundreds of thousands of persons crowded Broad street to view the pageant. More than 7000 men and 150 floats were in line. The cost of the spectacle was estimated at $250,000.

During the parade and throughout the day thrills were provided by a woman aviator who dipped in an aeroplane above the crowds and by a steepjack who performed on William Penn's hat on top of the city hall, 550 feet in the air.
Addresses of welcome by Gov.
Brumbaugh, Mayor Smith, Provost
Smith of the University of Pennsylvania and others opened the sessions of the convention today. In the afternoon, N. C. Kingsbury, vice president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., speaking on the national advertiser, characterized advertising as a "sort of higher education for all the world."

SAILOR WINS $10,000 PEARLS

Held Only One Ticket for Necklace
Offered at Allied Bazar.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Andrew W. Ni-land, 24 years old, a machinist of the U.
S. S. Ozark, who won the $10,000 pearl necklace at the allied bazar, was awarded his fortune in jewels on the roof of the Equitable Building yesterday afternoon. Jens Nelson, another machinist on Niland's ship, was his body guard.
They left shortly after the presentation to try to sell the jewels back to Dreiser for $10,000. Niland said he would remain in the navy.

Niland held only one ticket for the necklace—No. 36—and he had not bought that himself. A friend bought the lucky ticket for Niland. The necklace has 95 perfectly matched pearls in the string and five diamonds in a platinum clasp.

Nestlé's Food

(A Complete Food—Not a Milk Modifier.)

There are so many reasons why cow's milk is not best. So many dairies are dirty—so many cows are sick—so many thousands of babies get summer complaint and even diphtheria from cow's milk.

But in cow's milk there is something that is good for your baby—and that something is preserved in Nestlé's Food.

Nestlé's is made from the milk of healthy cows kept in sanitary dairies.
All the heavy parts of milk are modified, so that the curd is soft and easy as in mother's milk. All that your baby needs is added. It comes to you in an

"I had pimples on my face which gradually became worse and worse all the time. They burned and itched and I would wake up often at night and my face would burn dreadfully and it was disfigured for the time being.
At first the pimples were in tionship together? Men are not fools. Our war-hero-education, enthusiasm, national pride may bolster up the sophism for a time. But eventually men will come to think. Shall it be in the will of a disturber of peace to plow back into earth what centuries of endeavor have raised? Or will the derelicts demand to know the reason? Mankind is awakening. When the sun of peace rises it will cast its rays over a changed race.

The Reformation

Story of how a burglar repaid an act of kindness by committing a necessary burglary for his benefactor.

By Virginia Lee.

TWICE within the hour, Mrs. Edna Danvers had seen the tears fall from the eye of her hired seamstress upon the work in her hands. The latter thought herself unperceived, and when Mrs. Danvers came directly near to her, she smiled to conceal her emotion, and went on briskly with her task. She broke down utterly as she was left alone in the room. Mrs. Danvers had gone into the hall. She paused there at the sound of gentle sobbing. She stole back softly into the room, gently lifted the work from the hands of her seamstress, stroked back her hair, kissed her and sat down facing her.

"Now then, my dear," she said in her pretty, persuasive way, "tell me all your troubles, for you have some. I've found that out, and I'm going to find out the rest of it and help you, if I can and you will let me."

A 30-Day Sentence.

A MIGHTY resolve came into the mind of Edna Danvers. That evening she told her husband all of the sad story.

"Save him, Robert, dear; you have the influence. And the result was the two days later Mrs. Danvers came to the Danvers home aglow with happiness and hope.

"Oh, my good lady!" she sobbed joyously, "your husband is surely our good angel. He took my husband, John, before the Judge and John confessed. Your husband pleaded for him. They have given him a 30-day jail sentence. Oh, think of it—in another month John will be home with us! He would have been two years in the penitentiary only for your kind, good husband."

"And now," spoke Robert Danvers to his wife the next day, "having lent myself to another of your philanthropic notions, suspend the series until I give my unrestricted attention to my great case."

"There is a great case," then, said Edna.

"And a royal fee if I win it," declared her husband. "I am fighting the smoothest lawyer in the city; that is Hugh Boydston. He is slick, tricky, unprincipled. He works in the dark, and it is going to take unusual wit and ability to disconcert him."

Of that case Edna knew all the details from time to time. The "great case" became the constant theme of thought and anxiety for the family. "So much attached to winning it—in fact, fame and fortune," the lawyer asserted.

Mrs. Danvers had further need of the seamstress, and Mary Walters came often to the Danvers home. Edna often spoke to her of the great case. Then it came about, when John was released and came back home and started in to earn a really honest livelihood that John referred to the case and John listened with interest.

"I'm a grateful man," he said, thoughtfully, "and I shall never forget this Mr. Danvers."

The Burglar's Tool.

JOHN continued to ask Mary constantly for further details of the case. Bit by bit he burrowed out the pertinent facts.

"So the case hinges on what kind of a case that tricky Boydston is going to put up?" he remarked. "The weakness of Mr. Danvers is in not knowing what the defense is to be, eh? I'll wager it's a plot, for I know Boydston. He's a hard, cruel, crooked man."

John Walters said little after that, but one evening shortly afterwards an incident occurred that shocked and alarmed Mary. Little Freddie, toddling about his father, had pushed from his coat pocket a tool. It fell to the floor. John flushed and Mary paled.

"Oh, John," she gasped in horror, for in a flash she recognized the tool as a

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY

People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or trying to spend as much time as test work in the gymnasium, get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. You will soon find that you are losing weight and that you are feeling better and more energetic than you have been for some time.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are absolutely harmless, and they will not injure your system in any way. They are the only pills that have been recommended by the highest medical authorities in the world.

The King and the Peasant

Sandman story of the man who possessed the richest of all the earth's treasures.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

ONCE upon a time there lived a very old and very poor peasant on the great estate of the King. He lived alone, doing his work with and treating his neighbors kindly. One day there came down the road a great cavalcade of troops, and as they marched by his humble cottage he saw it was the King himself passing on his way to the place where his army was encamped.

After the King had passed there came crowds to bring him presents. Some took their jewels and others their gold, while many brought in their herds of cattle. But the King told them he had plenty of the earth's riches, yet he would like to find among his people the gift of the world's most precious value. But the people shook their heads and went home, wondering what the King meant. He did not want their wealth, but something greater—what could it be?

THAT evening the King put on clothing that belonged to one of the common soldiers and slipped down the road to see what there was to be seen. No one knew him and thus he could learn a lot about the people. As he walked along in front of the old peasant's cottage he heard a cry and saw that a little child had fallen. Then the door swung open and out rushed the peasant. Tenderly he picked up the weeping boy, wiped away his tears and gave him a bit of cake. Smiling, the child went on his way down the path.

But hardly had the child gone when the King, who had seated himself under a tree to watch, saw a woman tottering along with a load of fagots on her shoulder. The peasant also saw her from his window and came out.

"Let me help you with your burden," said he, and lifting the wood he placed it on his back and carried it to the woman's home.

As soon as the man was back in his cottage the King tore his own clothes into rags, shook dust over his coat and made his whole appearance that of a man in great trouble. In this plight he knocked at the peasant's door.

"Will you let me in for a while?" said the King, when the peasant opened the door. "I am an old soldier, but have fallen among thieves, who have stolen my money and beaten me up badly."

"My friend," said the peasant after a while, "if you will wait, I will go to the shop and buy you a bottle of wine; you look ill and it will help you."

"Have you no wine in the house?" asked the King.

"I have nothing more in the house," replied the peasant. "I have just given you my last bit of food."

"But the King is in his camp and expects his subjects to give him the most valuable gift on earth," continued the King. "Can you give him nothing?"

THE old peasant flushed and looked embarrassed. "I love our good King dearly," he replied, "but I have nothing which I can offer. This poor hut and the food I gave you are all I owned today."

"Come to the royal tent this evening," said the King, as he limped away as if he were lame.

That evening the peasant went as told to the tent, in which the King was holding a feast. He wore his shabby gown, but royal guards met him and escorted him to the throne, on which sat a man clothed in a robe of purple velvet embroidered with jewels. The peasant knelt, but the King took his hand. As the man looked into the King's face he saw it was the old soldier whom he had helped in the morning.

Rising, the King threw around the peasant his own imperial robe, and, leading him to the banquet, he said to the assembled guests:

"I have at last found among my

According to the London Times, the Bulgarian National Assembly has voted to adopt the Gregorian calendar in place of the Julian or Eastern calendar, to which it has hitherto clung chiefly in deference to the Russian hierarchy.

Perhaps we should have had them arrested, but we didn't. Instead of a policeman we sent a young college graduate who liked boys and who believed that every boy could be reached if one could only touch the hidden spring. He touched it. He got acquainted, became their friend, then their leader, and in six months the gang became a boy scout patrol—a constructive instead of a destructive force in the community. Was it worth while?

I shall never forget when Jack Hardy started with his club at University Settlement, in New York. There were six typical East Side boys of 17 and it looked like a ho-ho job. Jack was nervous himself, for he did not have much experience to help him. But he had the determination, patience, tact and spirit of service and he "made good."

Athletics, hikes, indoor games gradually took the place of saloons, girls and pool rooms. Cheap shows and cheap stories were succeeded by good entertainments and "club debates." In one year the club grew to 20, and Jack was the quiet master of the situation.

He has "stuck" to the club for three years. Several of his "boys" have gone to school or college, and the others now hold good positions. When I frankly asked one of them how Jack did it, he replied, "Well, I don't know exactly. He never preached much. He just SHOWED US SOMETHING BETTER and then talked to us straight. When we got going right we wanted to stay so, and he helped us. I guess it was his own life more than anything else that did the stunt." "His own life," the life of Jack, their hero.

The War on Ignorance.

THE British and Foreign Bible Society during the past year sent out 11,000,000 copies of the Scriptures. The enormous number is made up of 888,000 Bibles, 2,432,000 Testaments and 7,732,000 smaller volumes, each containing at least one complete book. Since the war began 10 new translations have been added to the society's list. Six are in the languages of the tribesmen of Northern Nigeria; one is in Ewe (South Togoland); one in Pangasinan (Philippines); one in Mputo (Lake Nyasa); and the other in Uele (Belgian Congo). The society's translations now appear in 497 tongues.—The Christian Herald.

Argentina's Growth.

THE last census just published fixes the population of the Argentine Republic at 7,583,257. The census of 1885 gave the population as 2,564,911, so that the record shows almost a doubling of the inhabitants in the past 20 years. Buenos Aires is a large and beautiful city with a population of 1,372,814, about half as many as all of Argentina had 20 years ago. The fertile soil, the form of government, the encouragement to industry, the improvement in education, the freedom in religion, have attracted a large number of enterprising citizens from all parts of the world.

POST-DISPATCH

Show to Be Given at Delmar Garden Friday for Post-Dispatch Fund.

CONTRIBUTIONS.

Previously acknowledged.....	$591.70
D. W. ....	1.00
St. Louis, 3215 St. Louis Avenue.....	1.50
Total .....	$594.20

Undertired by the heat of the previous days, the 150 girls and boys of the University City who are to produce the three-act opera, "A Golden Gift," for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund at Delmar Garden Friday evening, are devoting several hours each day to that enterprise, much content under realization that it means life and health for the babies in the homes of the very poor. Each preparing the children's report at the garden for a rehearsal of at least an hour, and the result of this application and intelligent thought is a cast and chorus in complete mastery of the musical score and lines to be spoken. They are also showing marked proficiency and confidence in the stage action upon which so much depends for a finished and enjoyable production.

Not a little of the time following rehearsal is given by the children to the sale of tickets for the performance, and with the merit of the cause and the entertainment combining for appeal, they are placing hundreds of them at 5 cents for adult admissions and 10 cents for children. Tickets may be had from any of the 150 children, except the company of Mrs. M. Louise Arnold of 314 Kensington avenue, who is cheerfully contributing her time and skill to direction of the opera in all its details.

Unusual Demand.

H. E. Mortland, secretary of the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission, 1718 North Thirteenth street, stated to a Post-Dispatch reporter today that there is unusually heavy demand for milk for ailing babies. From 10 to 15 new applicants are recorded each day, and as the warm season approaches it is more than probable that the number will increase.

"Never before have calls for milk come from such widely scattered sources," Mortland said. "Families living long distances from the delivering station call for milk and distributed have made application. In cases of this kind we arrange with one of the large dairy companies for delivery. It would be too much to ask mothers of these ailing babies to go to the mills or make the milk delivered. They have to pay carfare to get it. It would be cheaper to buy the milk, which they are not able to do."

"One reason for the excessive demand for milk at this time, I learn from reports, is the fact that many of the fathers have been compelled to undergo more or less long periods of illness and contracted debts that are still hampering them," Mortland stated when asked about that feature of the situation. "In many instances, however, the father is dead."

St. Louis last year had the smallest death rate of children under 1 year of age of any city in the country with 500,000 population and over. In 1909, the death rate was 22.00. New York was second with 24.00. Chicago had 102.4, Boston 102, Philadelphia, 104.9, Pittsburgh, 107.7, Baltimore 119.8 and Cleveland 110. In a large measure the excellent showing of St. Louis in the register is due to the earnest effort of the children of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice League.

The wonderful accumulating power of the penny was again demonstrated Friday afternoon, when five 5-cent stamps were placed in the 3200 block of St. Louis avenue gave a penny show for the benefit of the babies. This entertainment, which consisted of singing, recitations and dances, earned $1.61 for the fund, the penny was the admission charged, and lemonade was sold for a penny a glass.

To Continue Work.

The entertainment, which was designed and carried to completion by the children alone, was given at the home of Helene and Celeste Fleming of 3215 St. Louis avenue. Alice and Tommy Moore, 3217 St. Louis avenue, niece and nephew, respectively, of Congressman Moore, were also participants. The fifth member of the youthful organization was Ruth Faucett of 3234 St. Louis avenue.

The children were so successful that they have decided to give several other similar affairs during the summer, being very interested in the welfare of the babies.

The home of Blanche Collins, 2814 North Sarah street, Saturday evening, several children will join that little Miss an entertainment for the benefit of the poor babies that gives promise of splendid results in the way of enjoyment and money to the fund. The program at has been carefully planned to include a playlet and several big vaudeville acts, and is to start at 7:30 o'clock, the lawn, which will be prettily arranged for the event. Those who are to contribute to the pleasure of the children are Blanche, Gertrude and Dan Collins; Nellie, Charlotte and Burdette; Vernetta and Earl Musmann and Esther Kelly. They are all among the effective workers for the cause last season.

The receipts for the fund acknowledged by the Post-Dispatch yesterday are as one of $1.50 from Dorothy Berninghaus and others. This was the fruit of a lemonade stand conducted by the youthful workers for the poor babies by Dorothy and J. Charles Berninghaus of 3215 St. Louis avenue. Other contributors of 201 Castlemain and Augustus Emmelhennel of 808 Louisiana avenue.

THE POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKET AND FINANCE

STOCKS HAVE THE GAINING THE MARKET

Active Shares Score Good Gains in Late Session; Copper Dividend Increased.

Anacoda Copper Co. Raises Its Dividend.
NEW YORK, June 27.—The Anacoda Copper Mining Co. today increased its regular quarterly dividend from $1.00 to $1.25 a share. The Central Leather Co. today declared an extra dividend of $1 a share on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of $1 a share.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 27.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Whether yesterday's somewhat violent decline of prices resulted immediately from speculative sales or from liquidation by actual holders of securities, in either case a certain loss of the market's confidence in the situation. A turn for the better might conceivably be taken in the investment market were it not for the fact that the financial community might take the view that conditions in the investment market were as strong as to counterbalance even the prospect of a war.

"This morning's stock market proved that even speculative Wall Street was doubtful over these considerations. Without any tangible improvement in the Mexican situation, prices on the Stock Exchange recovered rapidly from the start, and a good part of yesterday's losses was regained in the first two hours.

Wall Street More Cheerful.
The probability is, that even speculative Wall Street, when it went home last night, assured of the weakness of the market, and the view in opinion as to the real source of the heavy selling orders, began to think of the market as a certain loss of the market's confidence in the situation. A turn for the better might conceivably be taken in the investment market were it not for the fact that the financial community might take the view that conditions in the investment market were as strong as to counterbalance even the prospect of a war.

"It was a possible theory that can be drawn from these contradictory movements on the Stock Exchange has doubt with the market, and the uncertainty in regard to what its influence on the market would be. In other words, the stock market itself is entirely at sea, and it will hardly be denied that in this perplexity, it accurately reflects the state of mind prevailing among the public at large.

"During the first four hours of business today the recovery in prices of active shares ran from 1 to 2 per cent, with heavy buying throughout the forenoon. Some moderate selling in the last hour caused a slight decline, but the trend of the market for the day was unmistakable.

"The shipment of gold deposited at the assay office today was unusual, both in amount and in the fact that it came from London. Instead of the usual $100,000, it was $200,000. The present condition, estimated at $100,000 to $150,000, brings the total on the current movement, which began with the shipment from Ottawa in the week of March 4, to $1,000,000. This is a record for the month of June, and it is the heaviest imports of the metal since the war began.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAYS' TRADING IN WALL STREET.
NEW YORK, June 27.—Stock conditions under the influence of the Mexican situation and the outlook of today's operations, decline for the morning. Losses of a point or more were suffered by many of the active shares. The market was affected by corresponding declines in London, California Petroleum, Industrial Alcohol, Crude Petroleum, and other active shares. United States Steel opened slightly higher, but soon made a loss of 1/2 per cent, and as promptly yielded again under pressure of a few offerings. The gain to almost points.

S'MATTER POP?—POP USED TO BRIDGE OVER A TEMPORARY DIFFICULTY!—BY C. M. PAYNE.

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One

DID you get a nice dinner when you dropped in on Mrs. Blinks?

"Not what I expected. She asked us to take a good deal of pot luck and then began to pull things out of a fireless cooker."

Defining Philosophy.

THE late Henry James, the novelist, used to poke a good deal of fun at "pragmatism," his brother William's new kind of philosophy. "Pragmatism," he once said, "has been likened to a blind man searching a dark room for a black hat that isn't there."

"Pragmatism, on the other hand, rather reminds me of the dialogue of Mike and Pat."

"Can I know what I don't know?" says Mike.

"No," says Pat.

"Well, there's a certain thing I don't know and I know it. Then don't I know what I don't know?"

"I don't know," says Mike.

"I don't know," says Mike.

Pretty Well Known

DOWDY on the station platform at Tuscaloosa, Ala., a traveling salesman from Atlanta was "killing time" until one of the semi-occasional trains which run in that section should happen along. At the far end of the platform, in the sun, an aged dorky sat on a bench in reverie. The salesman, for want of something better to do, began conversation.

"Good morning, Uncle."

"Maw'nin', Marse Clint!"

"What's your name, Uncle?"

"Mah name?" He looked up, surprised at the stranger's ignorance. "Mah name's George Wash'n'ton, Marse Clint."

The drummer scratched his head in mock perplexity.

"George Washington—George Washington," he mused, aloud. "Seems to me I've heard that name before, Uncle."

"Reckon y'all has," replied the aged c.e., complacently. "Ah been run' heah goin' on eighty-four years, Marse Clint."

Comfort Not Considered.

THERE is a deputy marshal in Mississippi who does not permit any such trifles as extradition laws to stop him in the performance of his duties. When a certain term of court was about to begin a man who was out on bail was reported to be enjoying himself over in Georgia. The Deputy Marshal went after him. The next day he telegraphed the Judge:

"I have persuaded him to come."

A few days later he rode into town on a mule, leading his prisoner tied up snugly with a clothes line. The prisoner looked as if he had seen hard service.

"Why, Jim," said the Judge, "you didn't make him walk all the way from Georgia?"

"No, sir. Part of the way I drug 'im, and when we come to the Tallapoosa river he swum."

Facts Not Worth Knowing

DANCING slippers can be prevented from wearing out by lining the soles with heavy layers of malleable iron.

Taking a bath in a damp bathtub is liable to lead to a serious cold.

Bureau of statistics has figured out that there are more than enough moths in the United States to supply the demand.

When packing the trunk for the summer vacation always remember that it annoys the goldfish to have the aquarium folded up.

You can prevent dust from gathering in the corners by building all your rooms round.

You can make the neighbors think it is raining by perching on the chimney and rolling camphor balls over the tin roofs.

In order to prevent your neighbor's lions from scratching up your garden seeds, plant them in concrete.

Rainy Weather.

THIS rain is great for the crops," said the farmer. "I'd like to see it rain like this for a week steady."

"What kind of crops are you raising?" asked the summer boarder. "Shallotrons or water lilies?"

Careless Mermaids.

DISTINCT traces of light have been detected in the ocean at depths of more than 3000 feet by an English oceanographical expedition.

"Some careless mermaid gone to bed and forgot to turn out the gas, probably,"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Good.

WORK hard, my boy," said the office manager to the new office boy. "And some day you may be a manager like me."

"Yes, that'll be great," said the boy. "Then I won't have to work at all, will I?"

At the Florist's.

DO you know anything about the language of flowers?"

"Yes. That's the language that money talks."

Posted.

NOW, please, didn't your conscience tell you that you had done wrong?"

"Yes, I know it already."

Silas McGuggin and the Pup

SILAS McGuggin, in Peewee's store: "I've got a new dog at the house—number four—My wife's got no use for my kennel at all. She says keepin' dogs shows my brain's pretty small. However, my new c.e. seems likely to stay. I found him this mornin' up Kickapoo way. One leg was plumb buster. A automobile had run the pup down. He'd been hit by a wheel. The poor little devil laid there in the road and whined when he seen me. It seemed like he knowed that I got a heart that's as tender as dirt. I'm ready to cry when I see somethin' hurt. I picked the dog up and he licked at my face. I carried him home and I found him a place to lie in the kitchen inside a small box. I wrapped his leg up in a couple of socks. My wife raised the dickens and called me a fool. I left and come here for a chance to get cool. That dog took me back in my mind to a pup I owned as a boy. Gee, it clogs me all up to think of him, fella. I loved him a lot. A wheel broke his back and he had to be shot." He brushed off a tear that had oozed from his eye. "I guess I'll go back to this new one," said Sil. A few minutes later he entered the store. His face was all smiles as he came through the door. "I peek in a winder," said he, "goin' up and, say—the old woman was huggin' that pup." Jed Peewee went to a case with a sack and filled it with candies, and when he came back he gave it to Silas, who frowned and asked why. Said Jed: "Them's for Mrs. McGuggin to try."

Microbe Proof.

WE drank from the same canteen," exclaimed the old soldier, rummaging.

"But wasn't you afraid of microbes?" suggested his granddaughter.

"Gee! No microbes could live in the stuff we was drinkin'!"

Dull Finish.

THERE goes young Scidds. He's one of our fluffed youth, you know.

"I never would have suspected it. He doesn't look a bit bright."

Starved Out.

ARE the mosquitoes very thick out your way?

"No, they're very thin. We keep our houses so well screened that the poor things don't get their proper nourishment."

Generous Fellow.

IS your husband a very generous man?

"Indeed he is! You know those cigars I gave him for his birthday? Well, he smoked only one of them himself and gave all the rest to his friends."

The Unruly Member.

Not Strong Enough.

WHAT did the manager go and fine Red Casey for?

"For talking back to the umpire."

"Gee whillikens! Why, all Red done was to call him a thief and a liar and tell him to go and get his eyes examined. That ain't nothin' to fine a man for."

"It ain't, hey? Well, the manager said a guy that can't pull no better stuff than that had better keep his mouth shut."

He Had the Countersign.

AT a military camp in New York State a few years ago a guard inspector, while going his rounds, approached a raw sentry, who simply looked at him and marched on, relating the Boston Transcript.

"Well," queried the inspector, intending to remind the man of his duty. "Well, Well! What is it?"

"Don't you want the countersign?"

"No, that's all right. The feller in the guard tent gave it to me. I got it yet."

Lots of men around home think they are mechanics because they know how to handle a monkey wrench.

No Occasion for Hunger.

AN English Town Council, after a adjourning for lunch, was desirous of adjourning for lunch.

The proposition was opposed by the Mayor, who thought that if his fellow office holders felt the stimulus of hunger the dispatch of business would be much facilitated. At last a rather illiterate member got up and explained. "I am astonished, I am surprised, I am amazed, Mr. Mayor, that you will not let us go to lunch."

"And I am surprised," replied the Mayor, "that a man who has got so much 'ham' in his mouth should want any lunch at all."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A New Animal.

THE doctor says baby must have sterilized milk.

"Nonsense! I never had sterilized milk when I was a baby."

"I know, John, but probably they didn't have sterilized cows in those days."

Of Course She Doesn't.

GEORGE is such a nice chap," said the girl in the tam-o-shanter. "I always enjoy having him call on me."

"I don't," snapped the other. "Of course you don't, dear. You'd rather have him call on you."

Cheaper Way.

WHAT did you marry her for if you intended to sue for divorce so soon?

"She threatened to sue me for $25,000 for breach of promise, and I knew I could get a divorce cheaper than that."

Still Out.

ARE you sure your mistress is out?

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the maid. "She told me two hours ago she was out, and she hasn't come in since."

Diplomatic Doctor.

WHY is Dr. Emms so popular with his lady patients?

"He tells them all that they are too young to die."

LUCILLE THE WAITRESS

"GOT a question to ask you," said Lucille, the waitress, as she handed the customer a glass of beer. "What's all this confusion about Jake Speare, or whatever his name is, that's going on nowadays?"

"Jake Speare?" queried the customer, dubiously.

"Yes—you know, the English scenario writer and stage actor. You mean Shakespeare. I think his 300th birthday is being celebrated."

"A victim in here this morning," Lucille went on, "was talking about Jake Speare, and I ask who he was."

"My dear young lady," he retorts, "have you never heard of the Bard of Avon?"

"You got me," I says, "But, I add, 'Til bite. Who is the Bard of Avon?"

"He was a great writer."

"What did he write—insurance or policy?"

"I was really kidding him a little, you see. I knew the police had put that old gambling game of policy out of business a long time ago, but I had to be on the elite and show myself to be up to snuff."

"Gosh!" he says. "You're funny."

"Yes," I says in reply, "not without a certain amount of sneer. I'm a comedienne. I believe that a smile on the face is worth two court-plaster beauty spots."

"He just has to grin, kid. Next he says to me: 'Didn't you never hear of Henry the Ape?'"

"No," I showed back at him. "I am not up on the history of the monkey family like a lot of the monkey's descendants."

"Excuse me!" he reverberates, "but 'Henry the Ape' was one of Shakespeare's plays—not a monkey."

"I was kidding, I suppose," I tell him. "Most likely one of those roller skating members of the Simoleon family."

"He turns to a man next to him and says: 'Did you ever hear anything like that?'"

"The next fellow is deaf as a post. He sees my friend is verbalizing at him by nodding his lips moving, so he puts his hand on his ear and says 'Repeat, please.'"

"I said do you like bananas?" says Shakespeare's friend, trying to be funny.

"No," says the other, shaking his head. "The good old night gown for me!"

"Well, my friend, if Shakespeare himself had been ham and bearing at this counter he'd sure had to laugh. I gave one whoop."

"Well," says the first man to me, "I can't talk to you about Shakespeare, can I?"

"Not me!" I anticipate. "I don't know the gent."

"Don't let her put one over on you," says a voice behind me. "She knows every chauffeur that hangs around this corner and a lot of other guys, too."

"It was the voice of Lucille, the town-head, she being somewhat jealous because Looney Ike, the chauffeur she is sort of sweet on, asked me to take a ride in his car last night. I gave her one look."

"Oh, ho! The green eyed sponsor!"

comes from me, not at all frustrated. Then I beat it for the kitchen and let Lucille wait on the customer.

"You don't care for highbrow plays, do you?" asked the friendly customer. "Who—me? Sure, I do," Lucille replied. "More especially the highbrow movies. Only last night I saw one that was great. It was called 'The Damnation of Explosive Love,' and say, kid, it certainly run the modified marathon of the emotions of my entire soul."
